AUSTRIANS TAKE RUSSIAN TOWN

Cross Galician Border to the North of Sieniawa.

DRIVING CZAR'S MEN BACK

Teutonic Allies Appear to Be Engaged in a Successful Move All Along Their Long Line With the Russian Forces.

Vienna, June 19.—The Austro-German troops, in pursuit of the retreating Russians, have crossed the Galician border to the north of Sieniawa and have reached the heights north of Krezow, Russia, and occupied the Russian town of Tarnograd, according to an official communication issued by the war office. The communication says:

"North of Sieniawa our pursuing troops have penetrated Russian territory and reached the heights north of Krezow and occupied Tarnograd.

"The Russian forces between the lower San and the Vistula have retired at several points. The heights north of Cieszanow (ten miles north of Lubaczow) have been taken. In the mountainous region east of Niewlow and in the rear of Jaworow strong Russian forces have appeared.

"On the Wereszyca river the fighting continues. Our troops have gained a footing at some points eastward from the river.

"South of the upper Dniester the Russians, after hard fighting, were compelled to retire from positions near Iitynia toward Kolodrub. Our pursuing troops have reached the mouth of the Wereszyca. Elsewhere the situation along the Dniester is unchanged.

"The eastern groups of General Pflanzer's army repulsed three Russian storming attacks. The enemy, making desperate attempts to throw our troops back in Bukowina, suffered heavy losses from our artillery and retired quickly. Eight officers and 1,000 men and three machine guns were captured.

RETREATING IN DISORDER

Russians Fall Back on Last Defenses at Lemberg.

Berlin, June 19.—Dispatches received from the press headquarters of the Austro-Hungarian army indicate that the Russians everywhere have been driven back on their last defenses before Lemberg, running north and south, about ten miles west of Lemberg.

The Russian troops along this line comprise the third and eighth armies, which, after their repulse in May and their retirement from the San front, were again brought up to their normal strength in men and received heavy reinforcements of new artillery.

The dispatches say the retirement of the Russians is being effected with considerable disorder.

ENVOY ARRIVES AT BERLIN

Bears Message From German Embassy at Washington.

Berlin, June 19.—Dr. Anton Meyer-Gerhard, here with messages from the German embassy at Washington, bearing on the German-American situation, had a two hours' conference with Dr. Alfred Zimmermann, under secretary of foreign affairs, and Count Montgelas, head of the American section of the office. Gottlieb von Jagow, minister of foreign affairs, participated in part of the deliberations.

The nature of Dr. Meyer-Gerhard's report has not been disclosed, but after the conference Dr. Zimmermann expressed himself as thoroughly satisfied with the prospects of an amicable settlement of the German-American difficulties.

GERMAN CONTENTION DENIED

America Will Not Admit Any Ship May Be Sunk if Paid For.

Washington, June 19.—The American reply to Germany's last note on the sinking of the sailing ship William P. Frye by the Prinz Eitel Friedrich practically has been completed and soon will go forward to Berlin.

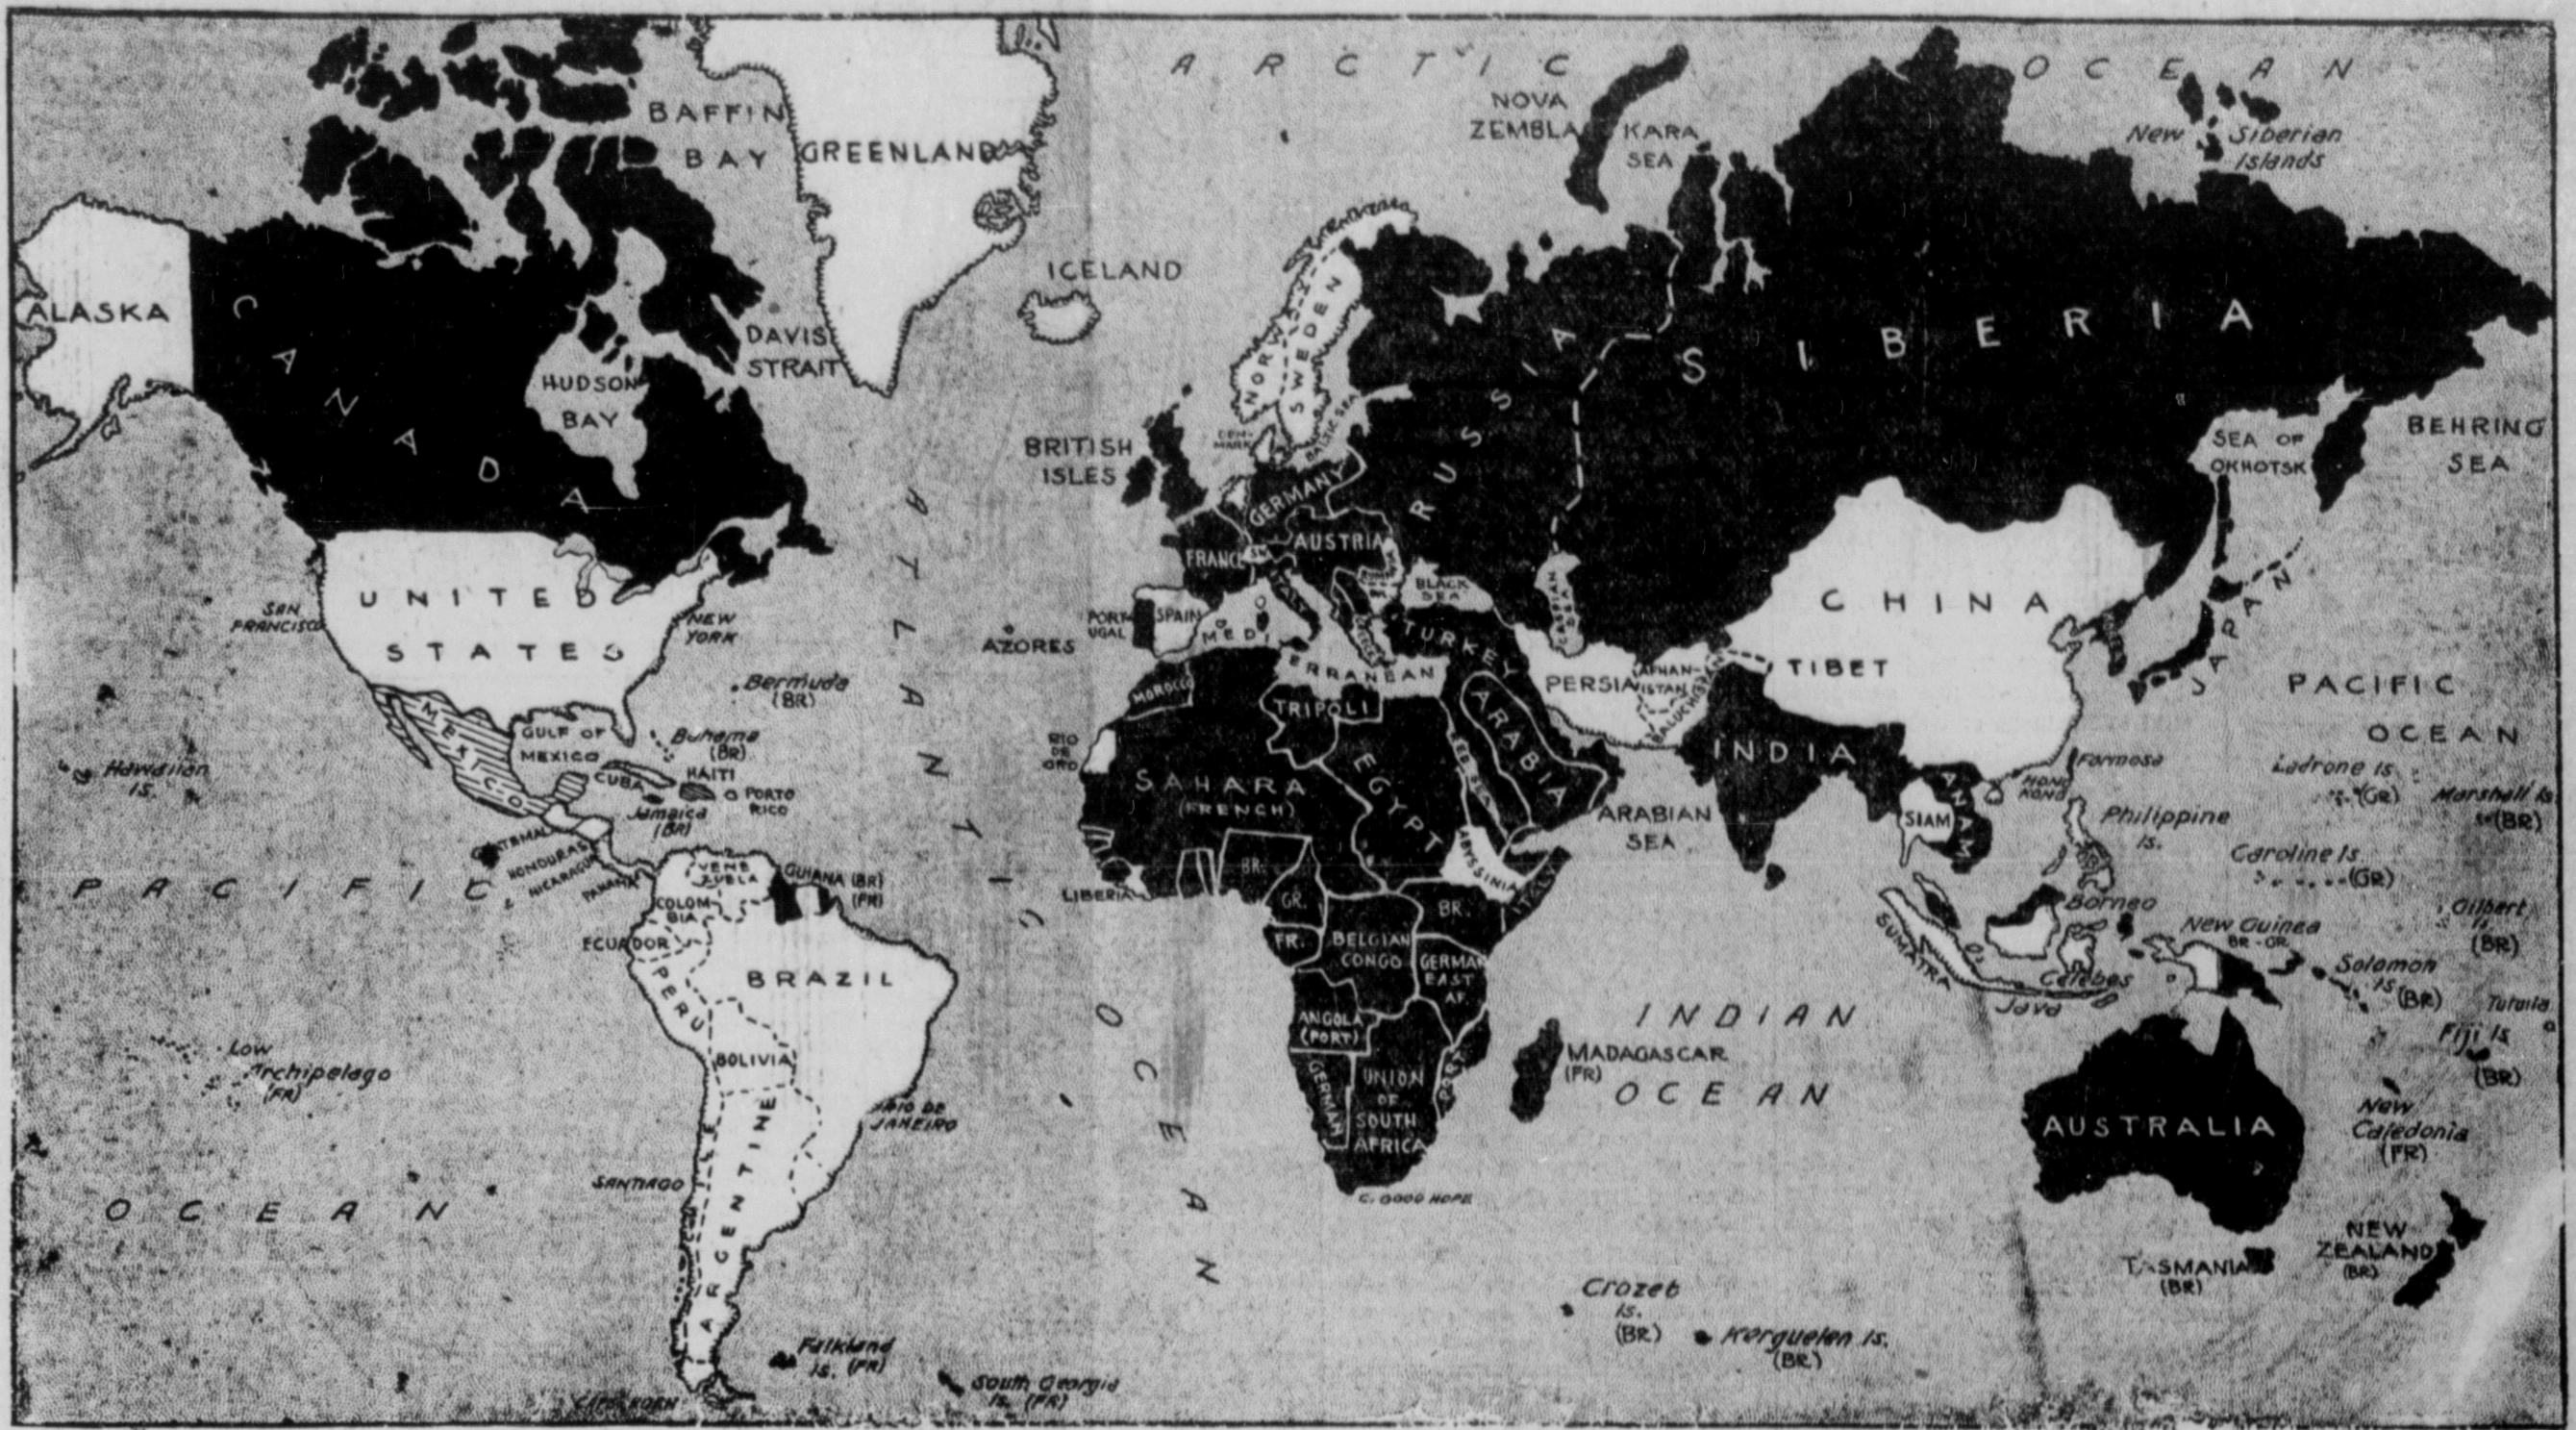

It will not admit the German contention that any American ship with contraband may be destroyed provided it is paid for.

NORWEGIAN SHIP TORPEDOED

Twelve Men Are Missing and Probably Perished.

London, June 19.—A dispatch to the Morning Post from Christiania says that the crew of twelve men of the Norwegian steamer Svein Jari, which is declared to have been sunk by a German submarine boat, are missing. The captain of the steamer was rescued.

How the Black War Cloud Has Spread Over Two Hemispheres, Showing the Territories Directly Affected

When Austria-Hungary, on July 28, 1914, declared war upon Serbia, the dual monarchy precipitated a general European war. When Great Britain, on August 4, 1914, declared war upon Germany, the inevitable sequel was what may properly be termed a "world war"—despite Pan-American freedom from direct complication.

The accompanying map of the two hemispheres is more comprehensive than any war map heretofore published. It indicates at a glance, in the black spaces, the extent to which war has gripped twentieth century civilization through the conflict of great powers and the dependencies of those powers.

In calculating the far-reaching effect of this war over the surface of the earth, it is fair to exclude the polar regions as necessarily "immune," with 6,970,000 square miles of territory and 300,000 inhabitants. It is fair, also, to include Portugal and its African possessions, since Portugal has declared its alliance with Great Britain, is subject to treaty call by Great Britain for thousands of troops whenever necessary, and is reported to have been in conflict with German troops in Africa.

Last, and also least, of the powers involved is the tiny republic of Marino, which, with thirty-two square miles of territory and less than 11,000 population, has cast its lot with the allies against the Turko-Germanic alliance.

The oceans, covering 139,400,000 square miles, are not included in the territorial estimates, although the Atlantic and Pacific have been the scenes of some of the most important operations of the war. They are excluded because they are the property of no nation or group of nations, but are the common possession of the world at large.

The figures used are compiled from the latest official statistics available and naturally do not take into consideration the effect of losses and conquests incidental to the war.

Total ... 816,540,626 23,127,357
The population of the earth totals approximately 1,732,000,000. The total population affected directly by the war is 816,540,626. Nearly one half of the inhabitants of the earth, therefore, are at war in which their governments are involved.

The total area of the earth is 57,641,000 square miles. The total area directly concerned in the war is 23,127,357 square miles—two-fifths of the entire surface of the earth.

The total cost of the war to date in life and treasure, to those involved, it is impossible to estimate, even approximately. Any so-called estimate that may be advanced must be a wild guess merely, and therefore barren of value. Not until months after the close of the conflict will any statistics on this line be worth the general statement, however, is true—that no war in history has approached the present war in destructiveness of life, property and useful industry. It is costing many millions of dollars per day, and more than a million men have fallen since the opening gun was fired less than eleven months ago.

LATEST WAR NEWS

MILITARY PARTY OPPOSING

(By United Press)

Washington, June 19.—The official and unofficial dispatches from Berlin indicate that the military party is fighting the concessions asked by the United States in the last note, the reason being that they fear the impression will go abroad that Germany fears ultimate defeat. This conflict at Berlin is the first real difference there since the war began, and even at the military party admits the right of the United States to protect her citizens and that the neutrals have a right to go where they please. The leaders are urging their government that they must impress upon the United States that they must compel passenger vessels carrying ammunition to keep passengers off, and suggesting that this government can easily withhold passports from persons unwilling to sail under the American flag.

RUSSIANS FALL BACK

(By United Press)

Petrograd, June 19.—The war department has issued a bulletin admitting that the Russians have fallen back several miles along the 50 mile front west of Lemberg. The Russian troops that evacuated Permyl have withdrawn to the Grodek Lake region for the defense of Lemberg.

SUNK SUBMARINE U-29

(By United Press)

Berlin, June 19.—A British steamer flying the Swedish flag rammed and sunk a submarine U-29, Commander Otto Weddigen, whom the British called a pirate on account of the consideration displayed for the crews of torpedoed merchantmen.

London, June 19.—The British war office in an official statement says that the German submarine U-29 was sunk by a British warship in March.

This contradicts the German claims this afternoon that the British had misused the neutral flag.

ARTILLERY SILENCED FORTRESS

(By United Press)

Rome, June 19.—The Italian artillery silenced the Austrian fortress at Malborget, dominating important passes and peaks in the Carnic Alps. The shells from the fleet tore holes in the outer works and sent part of the stone defenses tumbling in ruins. The bombardment continued for several days and the ammunition depots inside the forts exploded adding to the destruction.

NEW EL PASO BISHOP

Rome, June 19.—Pope Benedict has appointed Reverend Anthony Schueler, of Denver, as bishop at El Paso.

BRITISH CHOOSE INVESTIGATOR

(By United Press)

London, June 19.—The British government have chosen S. A. Thomas, a prominent Welsh colliery owner and a survivor of the Lusitania disaster, to go to the United States and Canada and investigate the war munition contracts.

FLEET BOMBARDS LIGHT HOUSE

(By United Press)

Rome, June 19.—The Austrian fleet bombarded the lighthouse at Tagliamento and attempted to fire the naphtha reservoirs at Honopli. The ministry of marine announced that the Italian dirigible bombarded the Austrian ammunition depot at Trieste.

FURIOUS BATTLE PROGRESSING

(By United Press)

Paris, June 19.—The French war department officially reports a furious battle progressing all along the Franco Flanders battle line from Arras to the sea.

STEAMER DULCIA TORPEDOED

(By United Press)

London, June 19.—The Partlepool steamer Dulcia, 2,000 tons, was torpedoed and sunk off the east coast this morning, one member of the crew being drowned.

RAID SCARES AMERICANS

Carlsruhe, June 19.—Several Americans were imperilled and badly scared during an aerial raid over Carlsruhe, but none were injured.

Hotels Will Close

(By United Press)

Regina, Sask., June 19.—All hotels in the province of Saskatchewan will be closed July 1 or as soon after as possible, if the advice of the executive of the Saskatchewan Licensed Victuallers' association is followed. A proclamation advising all hotel proprietors to close up their place on July 1 is being sent out. There are now 405 licensed hotels in Saskatchewan and it is estimated that 5,000 men and women will be directly affected. As a reason for this action members of the executive committee stated that it will be impossible to conduct a hotel business without the revenue from the hotels bar, which in the last year has been depended upon to meet the deficit which they claim has been a monthly occurrence with fully 75 per cent of the hotels. Increased cost of food stuffs and meats are given as a further reason for closing the hotels.

Great Dreadnaught Arizona Launched

(By United Press)

New York, June 19.—The Arizona, United States greatest dreadnaught, was launched exactly at 1:13, and it was one of the smoothest launchings ever known.

Floods Threaten Kansas

(By United Press)

Kansas City, Mo., June 19.—Floods threatened Kansas, the Missouri river being expected to reach the 27 foot mark, the highest this year. The Kaw is also rising, the Manhattan is threatened. The river there is eight feet higher than the highest mark.

Carranza Planning to Capture City

(By United Press)

Washington, June 19.—The Mexican situation is unchanged, and the convention forces expect that Villa will square oppose Wilson's scheme. Carranza is planning to capture Mexico City, making it possible for the United States to recognize him. It is admitted that Admiral Howard may have a strenuous time in rescuing the Americans from the Yaqui Indians, but the state department says that all that is needed is to use the wireless for more troops or ships if needed.

Carranza Shifts His Headquarters

(By United Press)

Washington, June 19.—General Carranza has shifted his headquarters from the city of Vera Cruz to the island of San Juanillua, in Vera Cruz harbor. The state department is uncertain whether this indicated that Carranza had sought refuge following trouble with his followers or not, but it is known that he has accepted the resignation of four cabinet members.

Teutonic Prisoners Number 1,610,000

Berlin, June 19.—The prisoners taken by the German and Austro-Hungarian armies up to June 14 totaled 1,610,000, according to the Bavarian Staats Zeitung. The newspaper says this total is divided as follows: Russians, 1,240,000; French, 255,000; English, 24,000; Belgians, 41,000; Servians, 50,000.

Killed During a Private Quarrel

(By United Press)

Washington, June 19.—Gilbert Taenbt, an American mine superintendent, was killed as a result of interference in a private quarrel at the San Luis Potosi, Mexico.

Panama Canal Graft Cases

(By United Press)

Indianapolis, June 19.—The Panama canal cases have been transferred from New York to this city this afternoon. The charges are graft of $28,000 by three employees.

LAKE TO GULF BILL SIGNED

Illinois Legislature Enacts Important Waterway Measure.

Springfield, Ill., June 19.—The signing and the final enactment into law of Governor Dunne's waterway bill was the principal event of the closing day of the legislative session.

The bill provides for the construction of a waterway connecting the Chicago drainage canal with the Illinois river, thereby creating a direct water route between the Great Lakes and the Gulf of Mexico.

NORWEGIAN PRESS ROUSED

It Is Demanding Clear Statement of Government's Position.

London, June 15.—The Christiania, Norway, correspondent of Reuter's Telegram company sends the following:

"The press demands a clear statement of the government's position regarding German submarine activity. The Morgenblad says if the government persists in leaving its attitude doubtful parliament must make its voice heard."

LARGER THAN JUMBOSparks Shows Make This Claim for Pachyderm on Exhibition in Menagerie

Barnum's success as a showman can be largely attributed to his ability as an advertiser. He made the word "jumbo," as applied to the large elephant in his possession, a household expression in every home in America, and today in the English language it is a coined word meaning massive. You often hear the expression "It is a Jumbo in size." The word Jumbo has no derivation and consequently has no meaning, except that given it by the excessive advertisement of Mr. Barnum.

The Jumbo elephant owned by the Barnum show was a monster brute and was undoubtedly the largest elephant in captivity at that time, but as James J. Jeffries and others in his line have lost their titles, so has Jumbo lost his for the Sparks show
"Mary" is three inches taller than Jumbo, and what is stranger still she is still growing.

The Sparks shows do not advertise here as being captured in the wilds of Africa by a thousand of the native warriors and brought to this country shackled with mighty chains. Truth to tell Mary was almost raised with the Sparks shows and has been in their possession for twenty-five years, or in other words since she was five year old. Mary does not require the ponderous chains which were placed on Jumbo during his exhibition hours as she is as gentle as a lamb and particularly likes the children. Many people have an erroneous idea that elephants live to a great age. In fact the elephant in his native country and state will only live to about the same age as the average human being, and in this country and climatic condition they rarely ever exceed fifty years.

Mary, the monstrous pet of the Sparks shows, is now thirty years old and still growing at the rate of two inches each year. She now weighs almost 10,000 pounds and is three inches taller than Jumbo. She will be found during each exhibition in the menagerie tent and is a persistent solicitor of peanuts from the children. At Brainerd Monday, June 21.

PARLIAMENT TO CONTINUEEnglish Ministers Decide Not to Dissolve Session.

London, June 19.—"That there should be no dissolution of parliament was the decision virtually arrived at by the cabinet at its meeting," says the Times.

"The ministers decided in principle that the life of the present parliament should be extended twelve months and that no municipal elections should be held this year."

Safety First.

It was a children's matinee of "Alice in Wonderland." Parties of small fry conveyed by guardian adults had been pouring in a steady stream down the aisles to settle in their seats with much flutter of short skirts and bobbing of heads and tossing back of curls.

One group consisted of mother and nurse, a gay little maid of eight or so,
and a solemn little boy somewhat younger. Each child clutched a program, and on their faces was a look of rapt expectancy. As they were filing into their seats the little girl pulled at her mother's sleeve and said in a loud stage whisper:

"Mother, don't you think you and Marie had better sit at the two ends to keep away the germs, you know?"—

The Czarina.

"Do try and get the empress to smile, Eulalia," said one of the grand duchesses to me at some court function.

But that was sooner said than done.
There is not a trace of artificiality in the empress's character. She seemed unable to pretend she was enjoying herself when, in point of fact, she was fatigued and bored. Moving as the central figure of a splendid pageant, I think she was always wishing the ceremony to be at an end and to find herself free to be with her children again.—H. R. H. the Infanta Eu-lalia in Century.

One Mark Twain Told.

When Mr. Choate was appointed ambassador to England Mark Twain issued a volume about him, which England was threatened with until Mr.
Choate, in dire alarm, begged the publishers to refrain. A few samples of the jokes may explain Mr. Choate's anxiety to keep the reading public of England away from the brilliant production of Mr. Clemens. How is this one, for instance?

Mr. Choate went into a restaurant and asked what they had for dinner.
"Everything," roared the waiter.
"Bring it in," said Mr. Choate.
"One order of hash!" yelled the waiter, and Mr. Choate fainted.—Denver Post.

Erskine's Puns.

A great wit of the Scottish bar was the Hon. Harry Erskine, who was lord advocate. Though punning is not, as a rule, a high form of wit, with Erskine it became a fine art. On one occasion he undertook to pun on the subject of his friend's first sentence. His friend began, "The king"—Harry intervened. "The king," he said, "is no subject." Again, a Mr. Dunlop challenged him to pun on his name. "Nothing easier," said Erskine. "Top off the last syllable and it is done."—London Standard.

NOBILITY OF PURPOSE.

If either man or woman would realize the full power of personal beauty it must be by cherishing noble thoughts and hopes and purposes, by having something to do and something to live for which is worthy of humanity and which by expanding the capacities of the soul gives expansion and symmetry to the body which contains it.—Upham.

From His Viewpoint.

"Why don't you ever come to any of your wife's teas? They are such a success."

"My staying away is a part of the success," growled the other man.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

WOMAN'S REALM

A PRETTY ROOM.

How to Handle a Scheme of Decoration For a Dining Room.

GRAY AND BLUE AND ROSE.

Satisfactorily Furnished Chamber Combines and Contrasts Warm and Cold Colors—Neutral One Toned Wall Paper Creates Excellent Setting For Pictures.

Nothing expresses character or temperament more openly or ingeniously than the choice of color, for each color in the spectrum represents a different idea, from the high light of yellow down through the cool greens and blues on one side and the warm orange and reds on the other to the shadowy, mysterious hues of violet. People choose as their favorite color either that which best expresses them or, in some mysterious way, its exact opposite or complement.

Color has been named the "voice of art," and, like the voice, it differs in each individual. No two people ever express themselves exactly in the same way through color, as no two people ever have precisely the same voice intonation.

Color is personal and individual, and by its thoughtful use many things may be expressed.

A well furnished room combines and contrasts the warm and cold colors, the cold generally serving as a background against which the warmer tones are displayed. A background must not be stronger either in color or decoration than the object to be shown. This accounts for the well deserved popularity of the neutral one toned wall paper which creates such an excellent setting for pictures, besides displaying the furnishings of the room to the best advantage. Do not forget, however, that the entire room is itself only a background for the social life which it contains, and the scheme of decoration must be subordinated to that idea. The occupants of a room are more important, or should be, than the furnishings.

To create a harmonious setting the tones must be closely keyed, with no large areas of intense color to distract the eye. Indeed, the color scheme of a room may be said to be successful when no one tone springs out to strike the eye before the rest of the room is perceived. A perfect balance of color is restful, while spots which distract the mind are not.

If intense color is to be used it must be confined to very small areas, balanced by larger areas of much less intensity, and as color emphasizes form the objects thus perceived must be beautiful in line and interestingly placed.

The interest of a room centers in the lower part, about the level of the eye, which renders absurd any attention drawn to the upper portion of the walls. Complementary or opposing colors should never be used together in their full intensity. A pure blue and a pure orange have no relationship as they stand, but if they are neutralized, which means that a portion of the orange dye is mixed into the blue and some of the blue into the orange, there result two softly beautiful tones which are entirely harmonious.

Attention has often been called to the vivid coloring and strong contrasts of nature, where against the bluest of skies the intense red, yellow and green of the autumn trees blend so beautifully. It is true that the atmosphere, bathing all these colors in its light, seems to create, especially where the magic of distance is added, a harmony of colors which within doors would never be tolerated.

In the dining room shown in the illustration the neutral tones, the cold tones, are used for the background, blue and gray paper hangs upon the walls, the rug is blue and gray, and the furniture is painted a pale gray. The color is in the lamp shade, which is of rose, the cushions in the chairs and the pictures upon the walls, which are gay splashes of color, sunsets and sunrises—color enough in this room to make it glow even before the rose colored shade is illumined for the night.

The Bride to Be Will Like Old Fashioned Furniture.

IT CAN BE BOUGHT FOR A SONG

Also Attractive Dressing Tables Can Be Made Very Cheaply by Covering With Chintz—Other Uses For That Charming Material.

It is possible for the bride to be to use quite old and cheap furniture with splendid effect in these days when painted furniture is so much in vogue. Such a bedstead is shown in the illustration. It was one which had been banished in disgrace many years before from the bedroom of the mother of a girl who was about to be married. The man she was to marry was poor, and the girl was ambitious to furnish her future home herself. How she furnished her bedroom is a story like an Arabian Night's tale. She furnished it entirely from her mother's attic.

She resurrected the bed shown here and gave it three coats of paint—black paint—then she rubbed it until there was no suspicion of a shine, just a dull polish. Then she striped it with gold. The bolster cover and spread were made of English chintz, with tiny roses clambering over a black plaid arbor.

Then the dressing table was made of a kitchen table and an old discarded mirror.

The mirror frame she scraped to the bone. She had the glass resilvered and had the frame toned a dull gold. The headpiece had "nobby" little roses reposing in a basket. She painted the background black, the rim gold, the basket black and gold and the roses

rose color, to match the color of the roses in her counterpane and the hangings for her dressing table.

She gave the table three coats of paint, the same as she did the bed. She lined the big drawer with chintz, made a chintz cover for the top and then put a frill of the chintz around the table just below the drawer.

Upon each side of her mirror she placed two discarded candle sconces done in black and gold. A little bedside table was done in the same way. Several old chairs were upholstered with the chintz, and by the expenditure of about $10 this girl had as pretty a bedroom as you would wish to see.

Young Baron and Girl in Suicide Pact

Frederick J. Hussenius, said to be a Swedish baron and member of a noble family in his native land, a family from which he was estranged, and his sweetheart, Anna Malmquist, twenty-two, were found dead in each other's arms in Central Park, New York.

Dawn was just glimmering through the trees when Patrolman John Flaherty heard three shots from the broad stretch of lawn east of the West drive in the park, at a point opposite Sixty-fourth street Under the drooping boughs of a linden tree the policeman found the couple clasped in each other's arms.

The girl was lying on her back and had been shot twice through the heart. Beside her, his left arm under her neck and his head pillowed on her breast, lay Hussenius. In the grip of his right hand, which was tucked between the two bodies, was an automatic pistol, three chambers empty. There was a bullet wound in his temple.

Hussenius, so his friends told the police, was born in Sweden. He was a graduate of Stockholm University. He was the son of a nobleman, and two years ago had a quarrel with his family which resulted in his coming to this country. He was about thirty years old.

Anna Malmquist was a music teacher and lived with her widowed mother, Mrs. Ebba Kuhlman, and three brothers in Brooklyn. Recently she suffered a nervous breakdown and was treated for three weeks in a sanitarium.

Gown Faintly Reminiscent of the Spanish Dancing Girl

Designed by Maison Maurice, New York.

IN the making of fashions we have found it necessary to call upon almost every country of the world.

In the gown shown here Spain has furnished us with the motif. The tiny bolero is reminiscent of the Spanish dancing girl, and you might fancy that Carmen had come out of the opera to pose for it.

The gown is developed of black sequins and jet, made over accordion plaited chiffon and a slip of black satin. To give the color note which every gown should possess two scarlet geraniums are used—one at the hem of the tunic, and the other is posed at the back of the bodice. It is only moderately decolete, and the sleeves are wisps of chiffon, daintily showing the bare arm of the wearer.

Many skirts, especially those of chiffon or silk, are bound with bias bands, usually self material, with the exception of marquisette, chiffon, tulle and lace, which are bound with silk.

Box plaits are held in place by narrow folds of silk.

Scalloped edged skirts, and there are many, are bound with narrow folds of the same material.

Full, double plaited ruffles have their edges pinked and add a quaint old fashioned air to taffeta and tulle gowns.

For a woman who always chooses a black parasol there is a model called "chapeau" for the reason that it resembles a sombrero. It is fashioned of black taffeta, but around the outer edge is a band of black velvet about three inches in width. The ribs turn up in a manner that gives the whole thing a very unique effect.

A very smart afternoon gown has a practical note that should appeal to

An Appreciative Listener.

"Henrietta," said Mr. Meekton, "that was a wonderfully appealing and persuasive speech you made."

"The audience seemed to like it."

"Yes. And I was proud to be one of the audience. It's the first time that you have talked in that confidential and respectful tone to me in years."

Washington Star.

China's Salt Wells.

Salt wells in China have been operated for hundreds of years, and in the Tzelnching district, especially, have built up a prosperous community. In some cases the wells are 300 feet deep. The salt is obtained in the form of brine, which is raised in bamboo tubes by means of crude derricks, the motive power for which is furnished by water buffaloes.

Crossroads Burials.

Formerly it was a general custom to erect crosses at the junction of four roads on a place self consecrated according to the pety of the age. Suicides and notoriously bad characters were frequently buried near to these, not with the notion of indignity, but in a spirit of charity, that, being excluded from holy rites, they by being buried at crossroads might be in places next in sanctity to ground actually consecrated. — Westminster Gazette.

CARE OF THE EYES

Health as Well as Beauty Demands That Eyes Get Attention

The woman who takes care of herself should give as much attention to her eyes as she does to her skin or to her hair. In the first place after driving or being in the dust of the city or country she should wash or bathe her eyes with tepid water. This removes the irritating dust or small particles. After reading or before going to bed she should bathe the eyes with salt water or tepid water to which is added a pinch of salt, and using an eye cup, will be surprised at the difference in the sparkle of the eyes. If inflamed they should be bathed several times a day. The dull, sunken eyes, the hollow circles and the sallow complexion of many women is due, however, to the complaints and diseases peculiar to women. The best thing I know for this is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, because it is a temperance tonic, healthy, made of roots and herbs with pure glycerine. It establishes regularity, heals inflammation and banishes pain. WOMAN'S REALM

A PRETTY ROOM.

How to Handle a Scheme of Decoration For a Dining Room.

GRAY AND BLUE AND ROSE.

Satisfactorily Furnished Chamber Combines and Contrasts Warm and Cold Colors—Neutral One Toned Wall Paper Creates Excellent Setting For Pictures.

Nothing expresses character or temperament more openly or ingeniously than the choice of color, for each color in the spectrum represents a different idea, from the high light of yellow down through the cool greens and blues on one side and the warm orange and reds on the other to the shadowy, mysterious hues of violet. People choose as their favorite color either that which best expresses them or, in some mysterious way, its exact opposite or complement.

Color has been named the "voice of art," and, like the voice, it differs in each individual. No two people ever express themselves exactly in the same way through color, as no two people ever have precisely the same voice in intonation.

Color is personal and individual, and by its thoughtful use many things may be expressed.

A well furnished room combines and contrasts the warm and cold colors, the cold generally serving as a background against which the warmer tones are displayed. A background must not be stronger either in color or decoration than the object to be shown. This accounts for the well deserved popularity of the neutral one toned wall paper which creates such an excellent setting for pictures, besides displaying the furnishings of the room to the best advantage. Do not forget, however, that the entire room is itself only a background for the social life which it contains, and the scheme of decoration must be subordinated to that idea. The occupants of a room are more important, or should be, than the furnishings.

To create a harmonious setting the tones must be closely keyed, with no large areas of intense color to distract the eye. Indeed, the color scheme of a room may be said to be successful when no one tone springs out to strike the eye before the rest of the room is perceived. A perfect balance of color is restful, while spots which distract the mind are not.

If intense color is to be used it must be confined to very small areas, balanced by larger areas of much less intensity.

tensity, and as color emphasizes form the objects thus perceived must be beautiful in line and interestingly placed.

The interest of a room centers in the lower part, about the level of the eye, which renders absurd any attention drawn to the upper portion of the walls. Complementary or opposing colors should never be used together in their full intensity. A pure blue and a pure orange have no relationship as they stand, but if they are neutralized, which means that a portion of the orange dye is mixed into the blue and some of the blue into the orange, there result two softly beautiful tones which are entirely harmonious.

Attention has often been called to the vivid coloring and strong contrasts of nature, where against the bluest of skies the intense red, yellow and green of the autumn trees blend so beautifully. It is true that the atmosphere, bathing all these colors in its light, seems to create, especially where the margin of distance is added, a harmony of colors which within doors would never be tolerated.

In the dining room shown in the illustration the neutral tones, the cold tones, are used for the background, blue and gray paper hangs upon the walls, the rug is blue and gray, and the furniture is painted a pale gray. The color is in the lamp shade, which is of rose, the cushions in the chairs and the pictures upon the walls, which are gay splashes of color, sunsets and sunrises—color enough in this room to make it glow even before the rose colored shade is illumined by the light.

PERSONAL MENTION

Miss Ethel Bush, of Detroit, is visiting friends in the city.

Miss Anna Irving, of Minneapolis, is to be a guest of Miss Frances Quinn.

Miss Lottie Birch, of Little Falls, is visiting at the home of her friend, Miss Elsie Branchaud.

Mrs. Albert Parrott, Mrs. Palmer and daughter Miss Palmer of Duluth, are visiting friends in Brainerd.

Miss Ethel Thomas will sing a solo accompanied by Miss Ruth Robinson, pianist, at the Bible school of the First Congregational church Sunday morning at 9 o'clock.

MUSIC AND DRAMA

At the Grand

On Sunday at this popular theatre may be seen a very admirably constructed story entitled "The Lure of Mannon." Fania Maranoff whose career on the legitimate stage has taken her to nearly every country on the globe most artistically assumes the leading role. The Kalem company has spared neither time or expense in making this a notable production. The management safely predict a great play. A special musical program will be given including a violin solo by Ordlia. Photographs of exceptional merit are booked for the entire week starting next Tuesday.

HER BEDROOM.

The Bride to Be Will Like Old Fashioned Furniture.

IT CAN BE BOUGHT FOR A SONG

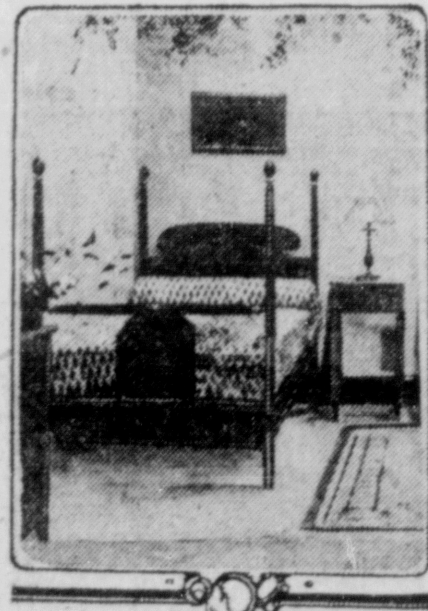

Also Attractive Dressing Tables Can Be Made Very Cheaply by Covering With Chintz—Other Uses For That Charming Material.

It is possible for the bride to be to use quite old and cheap furniture with splendid effect in these days when painted furniture is so much in vogue. Such a bedstead is shown in the illustration. It was one which had been banished in disgrace many years before from the bedroom of the mother of a girl who was about to be married. The man she was to marry was poor, and the girl was ambitious to furnish her future home herself. How she furnished her bedroom is a story like an Arabian Night's tale. She furnished it entirely from her mother's attic.

She resurrected the bed shown here and gave it three coats of paint—black paint—then she rubbed it until there was no suspicion of a shine, just a dull polish. Then she striped it with gold. The bolster cover and spread were made of English chintz, with tiny roses clambering over a black plaid arbor.

Then the dressing table was made of a kitchen table and an old discarded mirror.

The mirror frame she scraped to the bone. She had the glass resilvered and had the frame tinned a dull gold. The headpiece had "mobby" little roses replying in a basket. She painted the background black, the rim gold, the basket black and gold and the roses

rose color, to match the color of the roses in her counterpane and the hangings for her dressing table.

She gave the table three coats of paint, the same as she did the bed. She lined the big drawer with chintz, made a chintz cover for the top and then put a frill of the chintz around the table just below the drawer.

Upon each side of her mirror she placed two discarded candle sconces done in black and gold. A little bedside table was done in the same way. Several old chairs were upholstered with the chintz, and by the expenditure of about $10 this girl had as pretty a bedroom as you would wish to see.

Young Baron and Girl in Suicide Pact

Frederick J. Hussenius, said to be a Swedish baron and member of a noble family in his native land, a family from which he was estranged, and his sweetheart, Anna Malmquist, twenty-two, were found dead in each other's arms in Central Park, New York.

Dawn was just glimmering through the trees when Patrolman John Flaherty heard three shots from the broad stretch of lawn east of the West drive in the park, at a point opposite Sixty-fourth street Under the drooping boughs of a linden tree the policeman found the couple clasped in each other's arms.

The girl was lying on her back and had been shot twice through the heart. Beside her, his left arm under her neck and his head pillowed on her breast, lay Hussenius. In the grip of his right hand, which was tucked between the two bodies, was an automatic pistol, three chambers empty. There was a bullet wound in his temple.

Hussenius, so his friends told the police, was born in Sweden. He was a graduate of Stockholm University. He was the son of a nobleman, and two years ago had a quarrel with his family which resulted in his coming to this country. He was about thirty years old.

Anna Malmquist was a music teacher and lived with her widowed mother, Mrs. Ebba Kuhlman, and three brothers in Brooklyn. Recently she suffered a nervous breakdown and was treated for three weeks in a sanitarium.

Gown Faintly Reminiscent of the Spanish Dancing Girl

Designed by Maison Maurice, New York.

IN the making of fashions we have found it necessary to call upon almost every country of the world.

In the gown shown here Spain has furnished us with the motif. The tiny bolero is reminiscent of the Spanish dancing girl, and you might fancy that Carmen had come out of the opera to pose for it.

The gown is developed of black sequins and jet, made over accordion plaited chiffon and a slip of black satin. To give the color note which every gown should possess two scarlet geraniums are used—one at the hem of the tunic, and the other is posed at the back of the bodice. It is only moderately décolleté, and the sleeves are wisps of chiffon, daintily showing the bare arm of the wearer.

Many skirts, especially those of chiffon or silk, are bound with bias bands, usually self material, with the exception of marquisette, chiffon, tulle and lace, which are bound with silk.

Box plaits are held in place by narrow folds of silk.

Scalloped edged skirts, and there are many, are bound with narrow folds of the same material.

Full, double plaited ruffles have their edges pinked and add a quaint old fashioned air to taffeta and tulle gowns.

For a woman who always chooses a black parasol there is a model called "chapeau," for the reason that it resembles a sombrero. It is fashioned of black taffeta, but around the outer edge is a band of black velvet about three inches in width. The ribs turn up in a manner that gives the whole thing a very unique effect.

A very smart afternoon gown has a practical note that should appeal to

China's Salt Wells.

Salt wells in China have been operated for hundreds of years, and in the Tzsching district, especially, have built up a prosperous community. In some cases the wells are 300 feet deep. The salt is obtained in the form of brine, which is raised in bamboo tubes by means of crude derricks, the motive power for which is furnished by water buffaloes.

Crossroads Burials.

Formerly it was a general custom to erect crosses at the junction of four roads on a place self consecrated according to the piety of the age. Suicides and notoriously bad characters were frequently buried near to these, not with the notion of indignity, but in a spirit of charity, that, being excluded from holy rites, they by being buried at crossroads might be in places next in sanctity to ground actually consecrated. — Westminster Gazette.

CARE OF THE EYES

Health as Well as Beauty Demands That Eyes Get Attention

The woman who takes care of herself should give as much attention to her eyes as she does to her skin or to her hair. In the first place after driving or being in the dust of the city or country she should wash or bathe her eyes with tepid water. This removes the irritating dust or small particles. After reading or before going to bed she should bathe the eyes with salt water or tepid water to which is added a pinch of salt, and using an eye cup, will be surprised at the difference in the sparkle of the eyes. If inflamed they should be bathed several times a day. The dull, sunken eyes, the hollow circles and the sallow complexion of many women is due, however, to the complaints and diseases peculiar to women. The best thing I know for this is Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription, because it is a temperance tonic, being made of roots and herbs with pure glycerine. It establishes regularity, heals inflammation and banishes pain. Dr. Pierce publishes the ingredients on the wrapper so it is not a secret and I have seen many women cured by it and not only that, but the dull sunken eyes, the sunken cheeks and bust, have taken on a sparkle and healthful appearance. Thousands of women have testified to having been cured of womanly diseases by this Prescription. It speedily causes all womanly troubles to disappear—compensates the organs to properly perform their natural functions, corrects displacements, overcomes irregularities, removes pain and misery at certain times and brings back health and strength to nervous, irritable and exhausted women.

It banishes pain, headache, backache, low spirits, hot flashes, dragging-down sensations, worry and sleeplessness surely and without loss of time.

Keep the bowels healthy by using Dr. Pierce's Pellets. They don't gripe.—Advt.

WELCOME TO BRAINERD!

Brainerd today extends a cordial welcome to the senators, representatives and state officials touring Northern Minnesota.

Brainerd, Deerwood, Crosby and Ironton are the hosts today and they are proud to welcome the distinguished guests in this garden spot of Central Minnesota where business, agriculture, mining and railway work thrive, where happy homes abound and where this section of the commonwealth is valiantly doing its share to make Minnesota the greatest state in the union.

Brainerd and the range ask only an inspection of their various resources to make the whole senatorial party boosters for Central Minnesota. First-hand information thus gained by the members of the party will be of extreme value in guiding and shaping legislation for Crow Wing county.

The Dispatch wishes to thank all who took part in the entertainment of the senatorial party and who thus sustained the reputation of Crow Wing county for hospitality and good fellowship.

WATSON S. MOORE

Duluth Business Man to Speak at Bethlehem Lutheran Church Mass Meeting

The present wave of sentiment against the saloon is economic as well as moral, said a prominent worker in the "dry" cause. Business men have computed its waste and are using their influence to eradicate it.

Watson S. Moore, of Duluth, who speaks at a mass meeting of the churches to be held in the Bethlehem Lutheran church Sunday evening at 8 o'clock is a wide awake business man who is strenuously using his influence against the saloon.

Mr. Moore has the gift of expressing himself easily. He has analyzed the liquor situation and is in great demand wherever the question is discussed. His manner is not that of the average temperance speaker. He is decidedly humorous and uses his humor effectively in driving his points home.

Although at the head of a large business he is the personification of an ideal citizen. He gives liberally of his time and the advantages his business has accorded him to push movements for the betterment of humanity.

Those who are managing the County Option campaign feel themselves fortunate in securing Mr. Moore. The Bethlehem Lutheran choir will furnish music for the evening.

Harvard and Yale Ready for Their Annual Race at New London

Yale Crew and Coach Guy Nickalls
Harvard Crew and Coach Jim Wray

Experts say the race of Harvard and Yale at New London in their annual contest promises to bring together the best crews the two universities have put on the river to gether for many years.

Both are much superior to those that so nearly rowed a dead heat last year. Thus confidence reigns in both camps. Not in years has there been so much betting between the followers of the Dark Blue and the Crimson and it is at even money.

Because of these facts, and for the reason that this is the first season in years that the New London crews rank higher than those at Poughkeepsie, a record crowd will journey to the quaint old New England town.

Both Harvard and Yale have remarkable stroke men in the persons of Lund and Morse. The former has stroked nine winning crews in a little over a year. Last spring he set the pace for the second crew, which won from the midshipmen, took two races at the American Henley Regatta at Philadelphia, defeated the Yale second eight, and then went to England and won three races in capturing the Grand Challenge at Henley. Also Lund stroked the Crimson crew when it beat Annapolis and Cornell at Ithaca this spring.

County Option

This space is edited by and responsibility accepted for by the Crow Wing County Option League.

About Blind Pigs

Many who are not in full sympathy with the County Option movement are using the blind pig argument to influence voters to vote against that measure.

There have been convictions of blind piggers in our municipal court and there are rumors that there is liquor being sold illegally in Brainerd.

It must be remembered that the liquor business has been licensed in this country for over 50 years. In that time it has grown to have a powerful influence and has grafted itself into civilization.

The organized liquor business has controlled our national congress, our state legislature and in some cities and towns it has ruled the municipal government. Worst of all it has fastened itself upon individuals in the form of an insatiable appetite. This appetite seeks satisfaction and men who recognize this run risks of big fines and even imprisonment to get the gain possible by getting liquor to those who have the appetite for it. Thus we have blind pigs.

There is not a city in the country which has voted dry that has not had this evil to contend with. It is not the result of voting dry but the result of licensing the saloon.

Our mayor and police do not wish to act without full evidence and they are using the powers they have to control the situation, which they will, as has been done in other cities. A few blind pigs are not comparable to 21 open saloons some of which operated almost 24 hours nearly every day in the year. A good citizen who has evidence or who knows how evidence can be secured which would secure the conviction of blind piggers should present the same to the mayor or chief of police who will do their duty when they secure it. They have pledged themselves to this. It should also be remembered that every claim about blind pigs cannot be substantiated.

Just remember that 50 years of liquor selling cannot be corrected in a few months and give the mayor and police a little time to solve the question. It has been done elsewhere and doubtless will be done here.

where and doubtless will be done here.

Vote "yes" on County Option and widen the "dry" zone. This will extend to nation wide prohibition soon and the manufacture of liquor will be prohibited.

Certainly not a voter in Brainerd will gain anything by voting "wet" now that Brainerd has at least two "dry" years ahead of her. His interests will be best served by voting "dry."

This Is Paradoxical.

The apparent paradox that in severely cold weather fruit stored in ice chilled refrigerator cars will not freeze while fruit in cars in which there is no ice freezes is explained by Dr. J. D. Bonnar in the Scientific American as being due to the release of latent heat when the vapor in the air freezes on coming into contact with the ice.

Ancient Dentistry.

The first mentioning of tooth extracting in literature seems to be by Cicero, who names Aesculapius (the third) as the inventor of purges and the art of extracting teeth some 1,300 years before Christ. Hippocrates four centuries before Christ wrote much about the care of the teeth, and a tomb at Tanagra of about that period furnished a set of false teeth.

TIME TO ACT

Don't Wait for the Fatal Stages of Kidney Illness. Profit by Brainerd People's Experience

Occasional attacks of backache, irregular urination, headaches and dizzy spells are frequent symptoms of kidney disorders. It's an error to neglect these ills. The attacks may pass off for a time but generally return with greater intensity. Don't delay a minute. Begin taking Doan's Kidney Pills, and keep up their use until the desired results are obtained. Good work in Brainerd proves the effectiveness of this great kidney remedy.

William Bourquin, carpenter, 913 Seventh St., Brainerd, says: "Some time ago, I was suffering severely from kidney and bladder trouble. The kidney secretions were too frequent in passage and I had backaches and pains through my sides and loins. The trouble kept me from working and gave me no end of annoyance. I finally used Doan's Kidney Pills and they soon relieved me in every way."

his reasons for leaving the cabinet, his relations with the Democratic party and, what is more important, a test of the strength of his following. Bryan will have much to do about that time to prevent military increases, and it is believed that he will have many supporters in congress, particularly if there is no danger of war at the time.

Wants a Business Man.

Alvah Martin, member of the Republican national committee from Virginia, a man who will have much to say as to what the twenty-four delegates from that state will do in the next national convention, says that the Republican candidate must be a business man. Nearly every member of what was known as the "old guard" in 1912, the men who put Taft over at Chicago, makes similar declarations. They are for a business man. There is a suspicion in some quarters that they have this business man picked.

Sulzer Politic.

Former Governor Sulzer of New York was interviewed on a recent visit to Washington. "The president's note to Germany was just right. Bryan had a right to resign," was the substance of Sulzer's comment upon the two most important topics in the national capital at the time. The "same old Bill" didn't get caught either "a-comin' or a-goin'" in the present political mix-up in his party. There was one occasion at the Baltimore convention when Sulzer confided to some of his friends that the time had come when he should be nominated for president. And he was in earnest.

That $25,000,000.

During the swing around the circle by the South American delegates to the pan-American financial conference the Colombian delegate roused a storm of enthusiasm by declaiming vociferously for a closer pan-Americanism. He continued his talk on the same line and received a great deal of publicity, so much, in fact, that it looked as if our enterprising friend, the press agent, was on the job. And every time the Colombian spoke he caused many people to wonder if he did not have in mind the treaty and its $25,000,000 for Colombia which is to be paid by the United States if it is adopted.

Passing of the Indian.

About once in so many years the story is revived and retold about the "passing of the Indian." The latest comes from Dr. Francis J. Harding of Omaha, who has made a study of Indian character. He predicts that in 100 years the Indian race will be extinct, because the Indians and the whites do not mix or amalgamate, and the Indians, being the weaker, must perish. It has been the impression of many students of races that the Indians are disappearing and that they cannot flourish under civilization.

Rubber and Gutta Percha.

There are important distinctions between india rubber and gutta percha, and in the majority of purposes for which they are employed one cannot replace the other. While the trees yielding india rubber are well distributed over the tropical parts of the world and may be cultivated with more or less facility, the tree which furnishes gutta percha is to be found only in Borneo, Sumatra and the Malay archipelago generally.

WELCOME TO BRAINERD!

Brainerd today extends a cordial welcome to the senators, representatives and state officials touring Northern Minnesota.

Brainerd, Deerwood, Crosby and Ironton are the hosts today and they are proud to welcome the distinguished guests in this garden spot of Central Minnesota where business, agriculture, mining and railway work thrive, where happy homes abound and where this section of the commonwealth is valiantly doing its share to make Minnesota the greatest state in the union.

Brainerd and the range ask only an inspection of their various resources to make the whole senatorial party boosters for Central Minnesota. First-hand information thus gained by the members of the party will be of extreme value in guiding and shaping legislation for Crow Wing county.

The Dispatch wishes to thank all who took part in the entertainment of the senatorial party and who thus sustained the reputation of Crow Wing county for hospitality and good fellowship.

WATSON S. MOORE

Duluth Business Man to Speak at Bethlehem Lutheran Church Mass Meeting

The present wave of sentiment against the saloon is economic as well as moral, said a prominent worker in the "dry" cause. Business men have computed its waste and are using their influence to eradicate it.

Watson S. Moore, of Duluth, who speaks at a mass meeting of the churches to be held in the Bethlehem Lutheran church Sunday evening at 8 o'clock is a wide awake business man who is strenuously using his influence against the saloon.

Mr. Moore has the gift of expressing himself easily. He has analyzed the liquor situation and is in great demand wherever the question is discussed. His manner is not that of the average temperance speaker. He is decidedly humorous and uses his humor effectively in driving his points home.

Although at the head of a large business he is the personification of an ideal citizen. He gives liberally of his time and the advantages his business has accorded him to push movements for the betterment of humanity.

Those who are managing the County Option campaign feel themselves fortunate in securing Mr. Moore. The Bethlehem Lutheran choir will furnish music for the evening.

Alphabetical.

Willis—Won't you dine with me? Gillis—Thank you, I just dined. I was home and had my regular meal of apples, apricots and asparagus. Willis—Isn't that a rather odd combination? Gillis—Well, you see, my wife went to a domestic science school and had to leave after the first week.—Life.

Not Guilty.

It was 4 a. m., and Bilkins crept softly into the house and removed his shoes, but as he tiptoed up the stairs one of the treads gave a loud creak. "Is that you, John?" demanded Mrs. Bilkins from above. "No, my love," replied Bilkins; "it's the stairs."—Illustrated Bits.

Learning About Women.

"The only way for a man to learn all about a woman is to get married." "And study the ways of his wife, eh?" "Not listen to what she tells him about other women."—Boston Transcript.

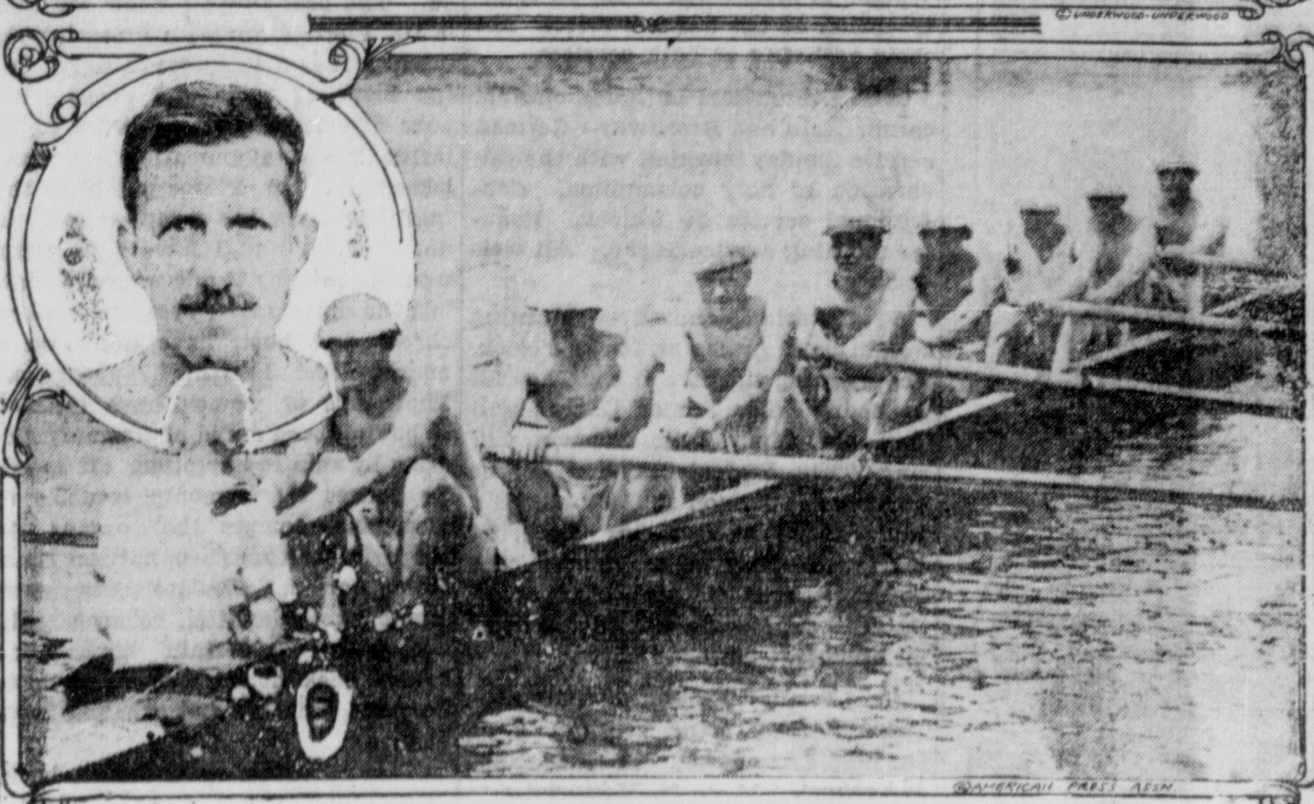

Two of a Kind.

"My dear Mrs. Gadsby, I'm so glad to see you. What is the latest gossip?" "My dear, that is just what I called to find out."—St. Louis Post-Dispatch.

Whooping Cough

Well—everyone knows the effect of pin forests on coughs. Dr. Bell's Pine-Tar-Honey is a remedy which brings quick relief for whooping cough, loosens the mucous, soothes the lining of the throat and lungs, and makes the coughing spells less severe. A family with growing children should not be without it. Keep it handy for all coughs and colds. 25c at your druggist.—Advt.

Harvard and Yale Ready for Their Annual Race at New London

Yale Crew and Coach Guy Nickalls
Harvard Crew and Coach Jim Wray

Experts say the race of Harvard and Yale at New London in their annual contest promises to bring together the best crews the two universities have put on the river together for many years.

Both are much superior to those that so nearly rowed a dead heat last year. Thus confidence reigns in both camps. Not in years has there been so much betting between the followers of the Dark Blue and the Crimson and it is at even money.

Because of these facts, and for the reason that this is the first season in years that the New London crews rank higher than those at Poughkeepsie, a record crowd will journey to the quaint old New England town.

Both Harvard and Yale have remarkable stroke men in the persons of Lund and Morse. The former has stroked nine winning crews in a little over a year. Last spring he set the pace for the second crew, which won from the midshipmen, took two races at the American Henley Regatta at Philadelphia, defeated the Yale second eight, and then went to England and won three races in capturing the Grand Challenge at Henley. Also Lund stroked the Crimson crew when it beat Annapolis and Cornell at Ithaca this spring.

County Option

This space is edited by and responsibility accepted for by the Crow Wing County Option League.

About Blind Pigs

Many who are not in full sympathy with the County Option movement are using the blind pig argument to influence voters to vote against that measure.

There have been convictions of blind piggers in our municipal court and there are rumors that there is liquor being sold illegally in Brainerd.

It must be remembered that the liquor business has been licensed in this country for over 50 years. In that time it has grown to have a powerful influence and has grafted itself into civilization.

The organized liquor business has controlled our national congress, our state legislature and in some cities and towns it has ruled the municipal government. Worst of all it has fastened itself upon individuals in the form of an insatiable appetite. This appetite seeks satisfaction and men who recognize this run risks of big fines and even imprisonment to get the gain possible by getting liquor to those who have the appetite for it. Thus we have blind pigs.

There is not a city in the country which has voted dry that has not had this evil to contend with. It is not the result of voting dry but the result of licensing the saloon.

Our mayor and police do not wish to act without full evidence and they are using the powers they have to control the situation, which they will, as has been done in other cities. A few blind pigs are not comparable to 21 open saloons some of which operated almost 24 hours nearly every day in the year. A good citizen who has evidence or who knows how evidence can be secured which would secure the conviction of blind piggers should present the same to the mayor or chief of police who will do their duty when they secure it. They have pledged themselves to this. It should also be remembered that every claim about blind pigs cannot be substantiated.

Just remember that 50 years of liquor selling cannot be corrected in a few months and give the mayor and police a little time to solve the question. It has been done elsewhere and doubtless will be done here.

Vote "yes" on County Option and widen the "dry" zone. This will extend to nation wide prohibition soon and the manufacture of liquor will be prohibited.

Certainly not a voter in Brainerd will gain anything by voting "wet" now that Brainerd has at least two "dry" years ahead of her. His interests will be best served by voting "dry."

This Is Paradoxical.

The apparent paradox that in severely cold weather fruit stored in ice-chilled refrigerator cars will not freeze while fruit in cars in which there is no ice freezes is explained by Dr. J. D. Boinar in the Scientific American as being due to the release of latent heat when the vapor in the air freezes on coming into contact with the ice.

Ancient Dentistry.

The first mentioning of tooth extracting in literature seems to be by Cicero, who names Aesculapius (the third) as the inventor of purges and the art of extracting teeth some 1,300 years before Christ. Hippocrates four centuries before Christ wrote much about the care of the teeth, and a tomb at Tanagra of about that period furnished a set of false teeth.

TIME TO ACT

Don't Wait for the Fatal Stages of Kidney Illness. Profit by Brainerd People's Experience

Occasional attacks of backache, irregular urination, headaches and dizzy spells are frequent symptoms of kidney disorders. It's an error to neglect these ills. The attacks may pass off for a time but generally return with greater intensity. Don't delay a minute. Begin taking Doan's Kidney Pills, and keep up their use until the desired results are obtained. Good work in Brainerd proves the effectiveness of this great kidney remedy.

William Bourquin, carpenter, 913 Seventh St., Brainerd, says: "Some time ago, I was suffering severely from kidney and bladder trouble. The kidney secretions were too frequent in passage and I had backaches and pains through my sides and loins. The trouble kept me from working and gave me no end of annoyance. I finally used Doan's Kidney Pills and they soon relieved me in every way."

Price 50c, at all dealers. Don't simply ask for a kidney remedy—get Doan's Kidney Pills—the same that Mr. Bourquin had. Foster-Milburn Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y.—Advt.

REASONS WHY WE DON'T WANT WAR

Neither Party Nor the Administration Wants Any Trouble.

DIFFERS FROM 1898 CRISIS.

When Trouble With Spain Began to Brew Democrats Claimed For War. Bryan Was One of the Chief Advocates of Intervention In Cuba, and Volunteered For Service.

By ARTHUR W. DUNN.

Washington, June 19.—[Special.]—There are two good reasons why the United States should avoid war with Germany. One of these did not exist just before the war with Spain. They are—first, the administration does not want war, and, second, neither political party is anxious to fight.

Just before the trouble with Spain the administration did not want war, but one of the political parties wanted to fight, or, what was the same thing and meant war, wanted intervention in Cuba and recognition of that republic, which existed on paper.

It is interesting to remember that at a great banquet just previous to the action by congress which brought on the war William J. Bryan made a speech and declared that the time had arrived for this nation to act and declare Cuba a free republic. "That speech was the voice of 6,000,000 Democrats who supported Bryan in 1896," was what a Democratic leader asserted in congress a short time afterward.

Peace Man in War.

The peace feeling had not taken such possession of Bryan at that time. Not only did he advocate a course that meant war, but he advocated it at a time when the administration was doing everything in its power to settle the Cuban question by peaceful methods. When war came Bryan enlisted as colonel of the Third Nebraska volunteers and was in one of the southern camps. He was still a colonel when he came to Washington to urge the adoption of the peace treaty, a treaty which precipitated a war with the Philippines. Since that time Bryan has become the most ardent peace man in the country.

When the Real Fight Comes.

The real contest, the aftermath to some extent of the Bryan resignation and a discussion of war and peace, will come when an attempt is made in the next session of congress to increase the army and navy and to make the national defense more efficient. Then will come a discussion of Bryan's reasons for leaving the cabinet.

his relations with the Democratic party and, what is more important, a test of the strength of his following. Bryan will have much to do about that time to prevent military increases, and it is believed that he will have many supporters in congress, particularly if there is no danger of war at the time.

Wants a Business Man.

Alvah Martin, member of the Republican national committee from Virginia, a man who will have much to say as to what the twenty-four delegates from that state will do in the next national convention, says that the Republican candidate must be a business man. Nearly every member of what was known as the "old guard" in 1912, the men who put Taft over at Chicago, makes similar declarations. They are for a business man. There is a suspicion in some quarters that they have this business man picked.

Sulzer Politic.

Former Governor Sulzer of New York was interviewed on a recent visit to Washington. "The president's note to Germany was just right. Bryan had a right to resign," was the substance of Sulzer's comment upon the two most important topics in the national capital at the time. The "same old Bill" didn't get caught either "a-comin' or a-gwine" in the present political mix-up in his party. There was one occasion at the Baltimore convention when Sulzer confided to some of his friends that the time had come when he should be nominated for president. And he was in earnest.

That $25,000,000.

During the swing around the circle by the South American delegates to the pan-American financial conference the Colombian delegate roused a storm of enthusiasm by declaiming vociferously for a closer pan-Americanism. He continued his talk on the same line and received a great deal of publicity, so much, in fact, that it looked as if our enterprising friend, the press agent, was on the job. And every time the Colombian spoke he caused many people to wonder if he did not have in mind the treaty and its $25,000,000 for Colombia which is to be paid by the United States if it is adopted.

Passing of the Indian.

About once in so many years the story is revived and retold about the "passing of the Indian." The latest comes from Dr. Francis J. Harding of Omaha, who has made a study of Indian character. He predicts that in 100 years the Indian race will be extinct, because the Indians and the whites do not mix or amalgamate, and the Indians, being the weaker, must perish. It has been the impression of many students of races that the Indians are disappearing and that they cannot flourish under civilization.

Rubber and Gutta Percha.

There are important distinctions between india rubber and gutta percha, and in the majority of purposes for which they are employed one cannot replace the other. While the trees yielding india rubber are well distributed over the tropical parts of the world and may be cultivated with more or less facility, the tree which furnishes gutta percha is to be found only in Borneo, Sumatra and the Malay archipelago generally.

SENATORS VISIT BRAINERD TODAY

Arrived in Brainerd at 2:30 This Morning. Train Goes to the Range and Mines Visited

ENTERTAINED AT BRAINERD

Brainerd City Band Plays, Shops and Other Points Visited, Dinner at Hotel

The senatorial party touring Northern Minnesota had a fish dinner at Bear Island, twelve miles from Walker. Indians in war paint decked up by Senator P. H. McGarry lent a touch of color to the scene. He stationed Indian policemen on the various trails from the picnic grounds who held up the party when they attempted to scatter, producing a great surprise all around.

The "Mega-Watt" was chartered by Mr. McGarry and took the party to his place Glengarry where they inspected the summer resort and cottages. In the evening the party had supper at the State Sanatorium where a class play was given. At Walker the party was joined by A. J. Halsted, N. H. Ingersoll, Dr. J. A. Thabes and C. E. Hansing of Brainerd. The band played as the senators left Walker.

The special arrived in Brainerd 2:30 this morning and at 3:15 left for Deerwood. There a train of flats had been provided with seats for an open air inspection and the party was hauled around on the range viewing all mining operations. Especially interesting was the visit to the Rowe pit mine where a huge concentrator is under construction and where hydraulic and steam shovel equipment is preparing the pit for large shipments. The range towns of Deerwood, Crosby and Ironton had joined in a welcome and showed the senatorial party every courtesy. Ironton is the home of Edward R. Syverson, representative from Crow Wing county, and Brainerd is the home of Senator George H. Gardner. This side trip proved a revelation of the development of the range and especially interesting was the advance in agriculture side by side with the mining industry, distinguishing the Cuyuna from the Mesaba range.

The personnel of the party was as follows:

Lieutenant Governor J. A. A. Burnquist and Mrs. Burnquist, St. Paul.

Secretary of State Julius A. Schmah and Mrs. Schmah, St. Paul.

State Auditor J. A. O. Preus, of St. Paul.

State Treasurer Walter J. Smith, Mrs. Smith and Miss Marcella Smith, St. Paul.

State Senators—Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Dunn, St. Paul; Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Duxbury, Caledonia; J. H. Baldwin and friend, Frazee; E. P. Peterson and Miss Peterson, Litchfield; Dr. and Mrs. J. W. MAY BE LAST SUNDAY TRAIN

The special train service on Sundays to the lake region on the M. & I. as far north as Jenkins was provided at the request of many Brainerd citizens. It will not be continued beyond tomorrow if the patronage is not better.

The first train up on June 8 just paid expenses, it is said. The second Sunday, June 13, witnessed inclement weather and the passenger list dropped away alarmingly.

This Sunday, June 20, is the last trial trip and if there is no support, citizens should not blame the Minnesota & International railway for discontinuing operating such a train. The schedule was arranged to suit many of the Brainerd people, the hour of leaving was made at a time to suit many of them, but the patronage has been lacking.

The train leaves the Brainerd depot going north at 8 o'clock Sunday morning and arrives at Jenkins at 9. Returning the train leaves Jenkins at 8 p. m., arriving at Brainerd at 9.

Collins, of the Minneapolis Journal.

At 11 o'clock the special was due in Brainerd. The Brainerd City band met them at the depot and autos by the score took them about the city and to the big shops of the Northern Pacific railway where announcers with megaphones explained the work of the various departments. Dinner was enjoyed at the Ransford and Iron Exchange hotels. At 2 o'clock there was a reception at the Chamber of Commerce rooms. With the band playing and a large crowd waving farewell, the special left for St. Paul at 2:30 p. m., due to arrive there at 6:30 this evening.

Brainerd entertained the party in royal manner. Thirty cars of citizens took the party south on South Sixth street to the Brainerd-Cuyuna mine, thence on Oak to the Dodd farm, to the Northern Pacific railway shops, through the North and Northeast sides of Brainerd and to the hotels where dinner was served. A reception was given them at the Chamber of Commerce rooms.

The Brainerd city band played at the train and at the Chamber of Commerce. Chairman Withington, of the entertainment committee, of the Chamber of Commerce, had all arrangements perfected that there was not a single break made. Everything moved according to schedule.

Golden badges decked all the party and were saved by them as souvenirs. At Deerwood autos met the party and took them about the range. The special went on through to Ironton and at that point the party rejoined the train. The special went to Riverston where the Rowe mine was seen operating. Side trips were then made to the Pennington and the Armour No. 2 and the towns of Deerwood, Crosby and Ironton vied in showering attentions on the members of the party.

MR. VICTOR REPLIES

Editor, Brainerd Dispatch:

Dear Sir:—In your last night edition in the account regarding the coming Sunday ball game you stated that I had resigned from the team because I had been offered larger remuneration by International Falls and that the local management felt that they could not meet such figures. This is an incorrect and certainly an unjust statement of the facts, which are as follows:

(1) Thursday morning I asked Mr. Hansing if I was slated to pitch Sunday against Pine River and he advised me that he did not know whether he would use me or not. Not being given any encouragement by him, I informed him that I had a chance to play for International Falls Sunday and would like to if he did not intend to use me in the Sunday game, but again I received no definite reply. Thereupon, as per my contract, I asked him for permission to play with International Falls, just as others have asked before me and have been given permission, and this Mr. Hansing refused to do.

(2) Last Sunday I relieved Pitcher Kannenberg after he was hit hard in the third inning, and Brainerd won the game in the end. But for this I received pay for six innings of pitching, not what I receive for a full game. Is it unreasonable then that I should ask for permission to put in my time playing elsewhere if the local management has no use for me.

I desire to make it plain to the Brainerd fans that only after a discussion with the manager over the above situation did I resign from the team, and not because I wanted the management to meet any terms offered by any outside team.

Respectfully yours,

A. F. VICTOR.

DEVELOPMENTS OF WEEK ON RANGE

Steel Company of Canada Highly Pleased with First Shipment of Ore From Wilcox Mine

HANDLED WELL IN FURNACES

Second Shipment of 3,500 Tons Will Have a Much Lower Content of Moisture

The Steel Company of Canada, to which was shipped the first 4,000 tons of ore mined at the Wilcox mine of the Canadian-Cuyuna Ore Co. at Woodrow, was highly pleased with the ore, its structure and the way it handled in their furnaces. The first lot averaged 59 per cent iron and the moisture content was 13.55 per cent. R. W. Seelye supposed the moisture would be about 15 per cent, as the ore had been taken from the shaft and crosscuts in winter and was still laden with considerable ice and snow when shipped. It scheduled 73 per cent on a No. 8 sieve and 6.80 per cent on a No. 10 sieve. The mine is now hoisting 500 tons daily. The "Midland Prince" of the Canadian Steamship Lines Co., loaded June 17 with 9,000 tons of which 3,500 tons came from the Wilcox mine and was shipped to Point Edward, Ontario. This cargo will have a much lower content of moisture.

Drilling on the range is picking up, new drills having been placed by the Seaford Exploration Co., Cole & McDonald, Moe Brothers and Daniel Walte. Daniel Walte has a drill in section 36, township 47, range 29. Another drill will soon be placed to work. Moe Brothers have started a drill in section 4, township 46, range 29, a new hole near Mahnommen lake. A. F. Gross drilled formerly in section 3, township 46, range 29. Cole & McDonald are drilling in section 17, township 46, range 29. The Seaford Exploration Co. is said to have struck ore on the Peterson farm in section 1, township 46, range 28. H. J. Kruse, of Crosby, will soon have two drills at work in township 136, range 25. Some drilling is being done in the Armour No. 1 pit.

At the Iron Mountain mine drifting is now going on full blast with three shifts of men and the ore is dumped into cars and shipped. The new shaft house will be put on its place over the shaft this week. The Kennedy mine stockpile of 100,000 tons at Cuyuna will soon have a shovel burrowing into it. The Adams mine at Oreland is silent, but may start up when ore prices are considered satisfactory.

The Brainerd-Cuyuna mine will start hoisting this month. A 1,600 gallon electric pump with steam reserve will keep the mine clear from water.

The small concentrator of the Thompson pit mine of the Inland Steel Co. at Crosby is working satisfactorily, handling about 100 tons an hour. In addition the mine is shipping considerable ore, which does not require washing. The total shipments are about 40 cars daily.

Payday on the Cuyuna iron range was on the 15th and in the Crosby-Ironton district there was disbursed by these mines approximately: Armour No. 2, $16,500; Armour No. 1 stripping operations, $8,500; Hill Crest stripping, $1,700; Thompson pit mine and concentrator, $7,500. The Armour No. 2 has finished shipping its stockpile and is now shipping from pockets about 25 cars a day. John Hoffman, one of the fee owners of the Cuyuna-Sultana, was on the range this week. William Rock of the Zenith Exploration Co., visited the range this week.

The Croft underground mine is said to contemplate increasing its crew. Sinking operations are being carried on.

The Cuyuna-Sultana Iron Company are installing larger equipment on their property which adjoins the Mahnommen pit on the north. It is the intention of the company to get out several carloads of manganese ore for shipment to an eastern furnace. If the ore will meet the requirements of the furnacemen, there is no question in the minds of those who are well acquainted with the property but that the area of the Sultana, containing manganese ore, will then be stripped and the property operated as an open pit mine. It is the intention of the company to erect a concentrating plant for the treatment of its ores and in all probability work will be commenced on the erection of this plant in the near future. The present installation will comprise an 80 horsepower locomotive-type boiler, a Wessinger hoist and a Franklin air compressor. The No. 2 shaft is being prepared for a skip and from this time on, the company should be reckoned among the active mines of the Cuyuna range. The property is situated in the heart of the range and contains a proven tonnage of many millions.

Machinery is being received at the Barrows Mining Co. for work on its steel and concrete shaft. Supt. C. B. Rowley is shipping from Ironton to Barrows his house trucks for the handling of the large shoe needed in cement work at the mine. The mines on the range in general appear to favor having the Fourth of July celebrated on Monday.

The Mahnommen pit is increasing its force. Three dump trains will soon be working in the pit. The Hill Crest pit has one hydraulic unit in operation. The Rowe pit mine shipments are expected to commence in August. Steel workers are working on the huge concentrator under construction. Two steam shovels and the hydraulic equipment is working in the pit. Officials of the Pittsburgh Steel Ore Co. and the Soo railway recently inspected the pit and were pleased at the showing made by Supt. J. C. Barr.

Equipment orders for Russia, aggregating from $25,000,000 to $30,000,000, are now under formal contract and additional equipment for that country is pending, says the Iron Trade Review. The French government has ordered 3,500 cars. The American Locomotive Co. has also taken 20 locomotives for Belgium and inquiries from other foreign countries are pending. There has been very little contracting in cars and locomotives for railroad of the United States, but the Rock Island is about to order 4,000 box cars. The steel bar market is strong.

Commercial Travelers Meet at Elks Hall Tonight—Big Spread, Stogies, Convention, etc

At 8 o'clock this evening the United Commercial Travelers Council No. 545 has its regular meeting in Elks hall. This will be an important business session and the presence of all members is requested. Co-operation and general interest in the welfare of the council by its members are some of the matters to be discussed. The U. C. T. boys are some baseball experts, and Brainerd council should be represented in this line. Paul G. Clarkson, fresh from the Winona convention, will be on hand and will undoubtedly have an interesting report to make, also, he may have in his possession the loving cup won by the Brainerd council for the largest percentage of increase in membership in this jurisdiction, comprising the states of Minnesota and North Dakota.

George J. Ryan, chairman of the entertainment committee, has made arrangements for a big spread, including stogies, and he certainly should know what's needed in the line of eats.

The parting injunction of Secretary Edw. Anderson to the members is: "Don't forget the date and place."

SENATORS VISIT BRAINERD TODAY

Arrived in Brainerd at 2:30 This Morning. Train Goes to the Range and Mines Visited

ENTERTAINED AT BRAINERD

Brainerd City Band Plays, Shops and Other Points Visited, Dinner at Hotels

The senatorial party touring Northern Minnesota had a fish dinner at Bear Island, twelve miles from Walker. Indians in war paint decked up by Senator P. H. McGarry lent a touch of color to the scene. He stationed Indian policemen on the various trails from the picnic grounds who held up the party when they attempted to scatter, producing a great surprise all around.

The "Mega-Watt" was chartered by Mr. McGarry and took the party to his place Glengarry where they inspected the summer resort and cottages. In the evening the party had supper at the State Sanatorium where a class play was given. At Walker the party was joined by A. J. Halsted, N. H. Ingersoll, Dr. J. A. Thabes and C. E. Hansing of Brainerd. The band played as the senators left Walker.

The special arrived in Brainerd 2:30 this morning and at 3:15 left for Deerwood. There a train of flats had been provided with seats for an open air inspection and the party was hauled around on the range viewing all mining operations. Especially interesting was the visit to the Rowe pit mine where a huge concentrator is under construction and where hydraulic and steam shovel equipment is preparing the pit for large shipments. The range towns of Deerwood, Crosby and Ironton had joined in a welcome and showed the senatorial party every courtesy. Ironton is the home of Edward R. Syverson, representative from Crow Wing county, and Brainerd is the home of Senator George H. Gardner. This side trip proved a revelation of the development of the range and especially interesting was the advance in agriculture side by side with the mining industry, distinguishing the Cuyuna from the Mesaba range.

The personnel of the party was as follows:

Lieutenant Governor J. A. A. Burnquist and Mrs. Burnquist, St. Paul.

Secretary of State Julius A. Schnabel and Mrs. Schnabel, St. Paul. State Auditor J. A. O. Preus, of St. Paul.

State Treasurer Walter J. Smith, Mrs. Smith and Miss Marcella Smith, St. Paul.

State Senators—Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Dunn, St. Paul; Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Duxbury, Caledonia; J. H. Baldwin and friend, Frazee; E. P. Peterson and Miss Peterson, Litchfield; Dr. and Mrs. J. W. Andrews, Mankato; John Steffen, Pipestone; Frank L. Palmer, Minneapolis; Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Westlake, Minneapolis; Mr. and Mrs. Henry N. Benson, St. Peter; Mr. and Mrs. S. B. MAY BE LAST SUNDAY TRAIN

The special train service on Sundays to the lake region on the M. & I. as far north as Jenkins was provided at the request of many Brainerd citizens. It will not be continued beyond tomorrow if the patronage is not better.

The first train up on June 2 just paid expenses, it is said. The second Sunday, June 13, witnessed inclement weather and the passenger list dropped away alarmingly.

This Sunday, June 20, is the last trial trip and if there is no support, citizens should not blame the Minnesota & International railway for discontinuing operating such a train. The schedule was arranged to suit many of the Brainerd people, the hour of leaving was made at a time to suit many of them, but the patronage has been lacking.

The train leaves the Brainerd depot going north at 8 o'clock Sunday morning and arrives at Jenkins at 9. Returning the train leaves Jenkins at 8 p. m., arriving at Brainerd at 9.

Collins, of the Minneapolis Journal. At 11 o'clock the special was due in Brainerd. The Brainerd City band met them at the depot and autos by the score took them about the city and to the big shops of the Northern Pacific railway where announcers with megaphones explained the work of the various departments. Dinner was enjoyed at the Ransford and Iron Exchange hotels. At 2 o'clock there was a reception at the Chamber of Commerce rooms. With the band playing and a large crowd waving farewell, the special left for St. Paul at 2:30 p. m., due to arrive there at 6:30 this evening.

Brainerd entertained the party in royal manner. Thirty cars of citizens took the party south on South Sixth street to the Brainerd-Cuyuna mine, thence on Oak to the Dodd farm, to the Northern Pacific railway shops, through the North and Northeast sides of Brainerd and to the hotels where dinner was served. A reception was given them at the Chamber of Commerce rooms.

The Brainerd city band played at the train and at the Chamber of Commerce. Chairman Withington, of the entertainment committee of the Chamber of Commerce, had all arrangements perfected that there was not a single break made. Everything moved according to schedule. Golden badges decked all the party and were saved by them as souvenirs. At Deerwood autos met the party and took them about the range. The special went on through to Ironton and at that point the party rejoined the train. The special went to River where the Rowe mine was seen operating. Side trips were then made to the Pennington and the Armour No. 2 and the towns of Deerwood, Crosby and Ironton vied in showering attentions on the members of the party.

MR. VICTOR REPLIES

Editor, Brainerd Dispatch:

Dear Sir:—In your last night edition in the account regarding the coming Sunday ball game you stated that I had resigned from the team because I had been offered larger remuneration by International Falls and that the local management felt that they could not meet such figures. This is an incorrect and certainly an unjust statement of the facts, which are as follows:

(1) Thursday morning I asked Mr. Hansing if I was slated to pitch Sunday against Pine River and he advised me that he did not know whether he would use me or not. Not being given any encouragement by him, I informed him that I had a chance to play for International Falls Sunday and would like to if he did not intend to use me in the Sunday game, but again I received no definite reply. Thereupon, as per my contract, I asked him for permission to play with International Falls, just as others have asked before me and have been given permission, and this Mr. Hansing refused to do.

(2) Last Sunday I relieved Pitcher Kannenberg after he was hit hard in the third inning, and Brainerd won the game in the end. But for this I received pay for six innings of pitching, not what I receive for a full game. Is it unreasonable then that I should ask for permission to put in my time playing elsewhere if the local management has no use for me?

I desire to make it plain to the Brainerd fans that only after a discussion with the manager over the above situation did I resign from the team, and not because I wanted the management to meet any terms offered by any outside team.

Respectfully yours,

A. F. VICTOR

DEVELOPMENTS OF WEEK ON RANGE

Steel Company of Canada Highly Pleased with First Shipment of Ore From Wilcox Mine

HANDLED WELL IN FURNACES

Second Shipment of 3,500 Tons Will Have a Much Lower Content of Moisture

The Steel Company of Canada, to which was shipped the first 4,000 tons of ore mined at the Wilcox mine of the Canadian-Cuyuna Ore Co. at Woodrow, was highly pleased with the ore, its structure and the way it handled in their furnaces. The first lot averaged 59 per cent iron and the moisture content was 13.55 per cent. R. W. Seelye supposed the moisture would be about 15 per cent, as the ore had been taken from the shaft and crosscuts in winter and was still laden with considerable ice and snow when shipped. It scheduled 73 per cent on a No. 8 sieve and 6.80 per cent on a No. 10 sieve. The mine is now hoisting 500 tons daily. The "Midland Prince" of the Canadian Steamship Lines Co., loaded June 17 with 9,000 tons of which 3,500 tons came from the Wilcox mine and was shipped to Point Edward, Ontario. This cargo will have a much lower content of moisture.

Drilling on the range is picking up, new drills having been placed by the Seaford Exploration Co., Cole & McDonald, Moe Brothers and Daniel Walte. Daniel Walte has a drill in section 36, township 47, range 29. Another drill will soon be placed to work. Moe Brothers have started a drill in section 4, township 46, range 29, a new hole near Mahnommen lake. A. F. Gross drilled formerly in section 3, township 46, range 29. Cole & McDonald are drilling in section 17, township 46, range 29. The Seaford Exploration Co. is said to have struck ore on the Peterson farm in section 1, township 46, range 28. H. J. Kruse, of Crosby, will soon have two drills at work in township 136, range 25. Some drilling is being done in the Armour No. 1 pit.

At the Iron Mountain mine drifting is now going on full blast with three shifts of men and the ore is dumped into cars and shipped. The new shaft house will be put on its place over the shaft this week. The Kennedy mine stockpile of 100,000 tons at Cuyuna will soon have a shovel burrowing into it. The Adams mine at Oreland is silent, but may start up when ore prices are considered satisfactory.

The Brainerd-Cuyuna mine will start hoisting this month. A 1,600 gallon electric pump with steam reserve will keep the mine clear from water.

The small concentrator of the Thompson pit mine of the Inland Steel Co. at Crosby is working satisfactorily, handling about 100 tons an hour. In addition the mine is shipping considerable ore, which does not require washing. The total shipments are about 40 cars daily.

Payday on the Cuyuna iron range was on the 15th and in the Crosby-Ironton district there was disbursed by these mines approximately: Armour No. 2, $16,500; Armour No. 1, stripping operations $8,500; Hill Crest stripping $1,700; Thompson pit mine and concentrator, $7,500. The Armour No. 2 has finished shipping its stockpile and is now shipping from pockets about 25 cars a day. John Hoffman, one of the fee owners of the Cuyuna-Sultana, was on the range this week. William Rock of the Zenith Exploration Co., visited the range this week.

The Croft underground mine is said to contemplate increasing its crew. Sinking operations are being carried on.

The Cuyuna-Sultana Iron Company are installing larger equipment on their property which adjoins the Mahnommen pit on the north. It is the intention of the company to get out several carloads of manganiferous ore for shipment to an eastern furnace. If the ore will meet the requirements of the furnaces, there is no question in the minds of those who are well acquainted with the property but that the area of the Sultana, containing manganiferous ore, will then be stripped and the property operated as an open pit mine. The present installation will comprise an 80 horsepower locomotive-type boiler, a Wessinger hoist and a Franklin air compressor. The No. 2 shaft is being prepared for a skip and from this time on, the company should be reckoned among the active mines of the Cuyuna range. The property is situated in the heart of the range and contains a proven tonnage of many millions.

Champ Clark Is President of New Organization.

HANNA A VICE PRESIDENT

North Dakota Governor Is Chosen
One of the Officers—Object of the Society Is to Assist Hebrews All Countries at War.

New York, June 19.—What is in-the amelioration of the condition of the Jews all over the world, particularly those in the belligerent European nations, was inaugurated with the formal organization here of the international Jewish emancipation com-

president.

The movement was started by prominent Hebrews in this city and the influence and aid of representative men in educational and political circles was solicited.

Among other elected officers of the committee were: First vice president, Arthur Capper, governor of Kansas;
third vice president, John W. Kern, United States senator from Indiana;
fifth vice president, L. B. Hanna, governor of North Dakota.

BREWERIES LAY OFF MEN

St. Paul Concerns Feel Effect of County Option.

St. Paul, June 19.—Breweries of St.
Paul already have felt the effect of the county option law passed by the last legislature.

Business has tobogganed considerably since option elections in various counties have caused the lid to be clamped on and prohibited the sale of beer and kindred beverages.

In the past few weeks the Schmidt Brewing company has laid off about seventy workmen, according to information obtained from one of its officials. This includes the entire bottling crew of fifty-five men, but the majority of these will be only temporarily unemployed. The force of drivers also has been cut down considerably.

At the Hamm Brewing company it was said that there had been no layoffs as yet, but the usual number of extra employees hired at this time of the year has not been needed. The Yeorg Brewing company sells its product mainly in the Twin Cities and has not felt the effect of option campaigns.

Business is expected to decline more rapidly after July 1, say local brewers, as at that time many of the saloon licenses will expire in counties which voted dry.

mitted to express an opinion upon the merits of opposing candidates for political office and upon the influences supporting them," writes Judge Holt in his opinion. "Perhaps it is still allowable to surmise that corporations are not indifferent to the success of political candidates in spite of the stringent enactments to keep them absolutely dormant in that respect."

"We fall to find anything unlawful or wrongful in the article published.
Corporations are public interests, are creatures of the law and not per se odious."

The article asserted that Lawler
"has the backing of public service corporations in the state that are not in sympathy with the masses."

WOLF PELT FRAUD CHARGED

Accused of Buying Hides in Twin Cities and Collecting Bounties.

Superior, Wis., June 19.—William Whitt, famed as the champion wolf slayer of Northern Wisconsin, is under arrest at Frederic and state game wardens are said to have connected him with frauds whereby the northwestern counties of Wisconsin have been defrauded of more than $20,000 in the past five years.

Others are said to be implicated in the plan, which, it is alleged, centered around the purchase of pelts of Canadian wolves brought to the Twin Cities and their presentation to Wisconsin county clerks for bounty payments.

The pelts are said to have cost the "hunters" from $2.50 to $4.50, while the bounty is $20, half paid by the state and half by the county.

Five Children Burned to Death.
Eolia, Mo., June 19.—Five children, two boys and three girls, were burned to death when the home of Bob Lewis, near here, was destroyed by fire.

JUDGE LINDSEY.

Contempt Case at Denver
Taken Under Advisement.

LINDSEY'S TRIAL IS ENDED

Contempt Case of Denver Judge
Taken Under Advisement.

Denver, June 19.—The trial of Judge Ben B. Lindsey of the Denver juvenile court, on an amended charge of contempt of court in connection with a recent murder trial, was closed when Judge Perry, in the district court, took the case under advisement.

Judge Lindsey had refused to reveal the confidence of Neal Wright, a twelve-year-old boy, regarding the shooting of the boy's father, of which the boy's mother was acquitted.

WILSON AND BRYAN ALWAYS COUNSELED

Former Secretary Denies Report
President Ignored Him.

Washington, June 19.—President Wilson called at the home of former Secretary Bryan to bid goodbye to Mr. and Mrs. Bryan before they depart for their Southern trip. He remained chatting for ten minutes with the former secretary and his wife.

The visit was described as entirely social in character and there were no references to the international situation.

Former Secretary Bryan made public a statement denying reports that have been circulated since his resignation, that he had been ignored by President Wilson while secretary of state.

"I am glad to make refutation," said
Mr. Bryan, "and to say that the president has done me the honor to confer with me about everything done in connection with the state department."
"I may add that we have never had any material difference on any question of policy until the submarine controversy arose and our notes—my note of resignation and his note to me accepting it—have clearly and distinctly set forth the only difference that existed on this matter."

SWEDISH PUBLIC ANGRY AT GERMANS.

London, June 19.—"The anger of the public and the press is rising daily over German attacks on neutral shipping," says Reuter's Stockholm correspondent.

"Newspapers of all shades of opinion are protesting energetically against the capture of the Swedish steamer Tors-ten and the sinking of the Swedish steamer Verdandi, both of which carried certificates that they had nothing aboard which the Germans could consider contraband."

HOLD CAPTURED TRENCHES

Sir John French Reports on Recent British Operations.

London, June 19.—The following report from Sir John French, commander-in-chief of the British forces on the continent, was given out here.

"The fighting in the northern and southern portions of our front continued throughout June 16 in co-operation with the attack of our ally about Arras.

"East of Ypres all the German first line trenches which we captured remain in our hands in spite of two counter attacks, which we repulsed with heavy loss to the enemy. We were, however, unable to retain those of the enemy's second line of trenches which we had occupied.

"East of Festubert, as a result of a further attack on the afternoon of the 16th, we made a slight advance, and judging by the number of dead Germans in the trenches entered by our artillery fire was very effective."

NEW SYSTEM OF BUILDING SHIPS

Secretary Daniels Will Give Private Builders Chance.

RESULT OF CAREFUL STUDY

Head of Navy Department Concludes That Plan of Charging a Proportionate Share of the Ordinary Running Expenses of the Yard in Figuring Cost of Construction Is Wrong.

Washington, June 19.—Under a new system of accounting at the government navy yards, to be inaugurated July 1, Secretary Daniels expects to demonstrate that battleships can be constructed by the government at a cost that will at least insure satisfactory competition in bidding for contracts by private builders.

In announcing the new system Mr.
Daniels said he had been studying the problem for months and had concluded that the system of charging a proportionate share of the ordinary running expenses of the yard is figuring the cost of construction is wrong.

These expenses, he said, constituted a military necessity and continued whether ships were or were not built at the yards.

Hereafter, therefore, only expenses actually added on account of construction will be charged against the ships.
While private yards use the old system, the navy view is that their business is construction and not repair work, and that to apply that system to government plants results in charging new ships with a part of the cost of repair work on other craft.

Inventories of all property at government yards have been made and will be kept up to date hereafter, to furnish a basis for an accurate "production factor" for use in figuring construction costs.

TO BAR POISONED BULLETS

Alleged Manufacture of Cartridges to Be Investigated.

Washington, June 19.—The cabinet held a two-hour session and discussed a variety of subjects, among them the Mexican situation and the charges of espionage on official mails between the United States and Europe.

One subject discussed was the reported manufacturing of cartridges advertised by a Cleveland concern to contain poisonous gases to cause much pain and to cause death within four hours.

The position of the government in such cases is that where contributory violations of the Hague convention occur within the United States it will endeavor to stop them. The department of commerce will investigate.

EFFICIENCY BUREAU SCORED

Wisconsin Senate Committee Reports on Investigation.

Madison, Wis., June 19.—The senate special committee appointed to investigate the Wisconsin efficiency bureau and its publication, Everybody's Business, made its report. Senator
Otto Rosshard was chairman.

After examining several witnesses
it makes these findings:

"The Wisconsin efficiency bureau is in fact an organization which issues publications designed to influence public opinion and legislation on important matters, without disclosing the names of its owners, promoters, managers or contributors. Sound public policy demands the condemnation of such a procedure."

STAHL ACCUSED OF PERJURY

German Reservist Indicted by the Grand Jury.

New York, June 19.—Gustave Stahl, the German reservist, who swore in an affidavit submitted to the state department by the German embassy that he saw guns aboard the Lusitania, was indicted for perjury by a federal grand jury.

The alleged perjury was committed,
it is said, not when he made the affidavit, but in testimony to the same effect before the grand jury in its inquiry against Paul Koenig.

Stahl is now in the Tombs, where he was taken in default of $10,000 bail after his arrest on leaving the grand jury room June 10.

Austrians on Offensive.

Verona, Italy, June 19.—The Austrians have now so strengthened their forces that they are taking the offensive both from Mori and Rovereto, in Trent, against the Italians, who are camping at Brentonico, which lies at the foot of Mount Altissimo; at Serravalle, situated in the Lagarina valley, and also in the Arsa valley.
The result of the fighting is still in doubt.

Former G. A. R. Head Dies.

Daveport, Ia., June 19.—E. H. Buck, past department commander of the Illinois Grand Army of the Republic, died of apoplexy at the home of his daughter here. His home for years was in Rock Island and he took part in the G. A. R. encampment parade in Moline several weeks ago.

LEO M. FRANK.

Governor May Not Give a Decision Until Monday.

FIX FRANK'S FATE MONDAY

Governor Slaton of Georgia Will Announce Decision.

Atlanta, Ga., June 19.—Governor Slaton said he had not yet reached a conclusion on Leo M. Frank's application for commutation of his death sentence and he thought it likely he would not announce his decision until Monday. Frank's execution is set for Tuesday.

MAN MURDERS THREE; SLAIN BY OFFICERS

Bride and Groom, Latter's Son and Policeman Victims.

Jamestown, N. Y., June 19.—Fred Shaver of this city shot and killed his father, his stepmother and a policeman and was himself killed by other officers. The weapons used were rifles and Shaver's act is attributed to drink and a quarrel with his father. The latter, Hudson Shaver, sixty-seven years old, and well to do, was married June 7 to Ruth Campbell, thirty-seven.

The son went to his father's apartments, where, after a dispute, the older man fled to the hall. There he fell dead from a rifle ball. The sound of the shot attracted Officer Kendall, who ran up the stairway.
Young Shaver shot the policeman in the chest and hip and these wounds proved fatal an hour later. The mur-derer then barricaded himself in the apartment and the slaying of his stepmother probably occurred soon after that.

A deputy sheriff called to him to surrender, but Shaver refused. Later, when he appeared at the window, several policemen standing across the street fired in quick succession and he fell back to the floor. The officers then broke open the door and found him dead.

CHARLES BECKER IS DENIED NEW TRIAL.

Albany, N. Y., June 19.—Only Governor Whitman or the United States supreme court now can stay the sentence of "death by electrocution" upon Charles Becker, former New York police lieutenant. The court of appeals repeated its decision that Becker shall die in the electric chair during the week of July 12. The court specifically denied the application of Becker, convicted of instigating the Herman Rosenthal murder, for a reargument of his appeals.

TWO KILLED IN AIR MISHAP

Another Man Escapes Death by Alighting on Bodies.

Quincy, Mass., June 19.—In an aero-plane accident here George H. Hersey, Jr., of this city, a mechanic, was killed and William D. Ely of Providence, R. I., who was receiving instructions in flight from Harry L.
Jones, the operator of the machine, suffered injuries from which he died on the way to the hospital.
Jones probably escaped serious injury by falling on the bodies of the others.

Nineteen Dead Toll of Storm.

Kansas City, June 19.—Reports from storm swept sections of the Southwest continued to reach here, bringing news of additional deaths and further property damage. The total of nineteen persons were known to be dead as a result of the terrific wind, hail and electrical storms which centered in Missouri and Kansas.

THREE KILLED IN WRECK

Unidentified Tramps Are Victims of Montana Accident.

Dillon, Mont., June 19.—Three men were killed and three seriously injured, all unidentified tramps beating their way, in a freight wreck on the Oregon Short Line when twelve freight cars of a double header train went into a ditch, causing a loss of thousands of dollars worth of property.

The twelve cars were completely destroyed and thousands of pounds of coal and merchandise of every description were scattered over the right of way.

$100 REWARD. $100
The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages, and that is catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work.
The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers that they offer One Hundred Dollars for any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.

NATIONAL MOVE TO ASSIST JEWS

Champ Clark Is President of New Organization.

HANNA A VICE PRESIDENT

North Dakota Governor Is Chosen One of the Officers—Object of the Society Is to Assist Hebrews All Over the World, Particularly in the Countries at War.

New York, June 19.—What is intended as a nationwide movement for the amelioration of the condition of the Jews all over the world, particularly those in the belligerent European nations, was inaugurated with the formal organization here of the international Jewish emancipation committee. Champ Clark was elected its president.

The movement was started by prominent Hebrews in this city and the influence and aid of representative men in educational and political circles was solicited.

Among other elected officers of the committee were: First vice president, Arthur Capper, governor of Kansas; third vice president, John W. Kern, United States senator from Indiana; fifth vice president, L. B. Hanna, governor of North Dakota.

Breweries Lay Off Men

St. Paul, June 19.—Breweries of St. Paul already have felt the effect of the county option law passed by the last legislature.

Business has tobogganed considerably since option elections in various counties have caused the lid to be clamped on and prohibited the sale of beer and kindred beverages.

In the past few weeks the Schmidt Brewing company has laid off about seventy workmen, according to information obtained from one of its officials. This includes the entire bottling crew of fifty-five men, but the majority of these will be only temporarily unemployed. The force of drivers also has been cut down considerably.

At the Hamm Brewing company it was said that there had been no layoffs as yet, but the usual number of extra employees hired at this time of the year has not been needed. The Yoerg Brewing company sells its product mainly in the Twin Cities and has not felt the effect of option campaign.

Business is expected to decline more rapidly after July 1, say local brewers, as at that time many of the saloon licenses will expire in counties which voted dry.

EDITOR MAY PRINT OPINION

Minnesota Newspaper Man Freed of Libel Charge.

St. Paul, June 19.—The action charging criminal libel brought by the state against J. R. Landy, editor of the Olivia Times, for articles printed June 4, 1914, concerning the candidacy of Dan W. Lawler of St. Paul for governor, is brought to an end by a decision handed down in supreme court by Judge Holt reversing the order of the lower court in refusing to sustain a demurrer.

"Newspapers may still be permitted to express an opinion upon the merits of opposing candidates for political office and upon the influences supporting them," writes Judge Holt in his opinion. "Perhaps it is still allowable to surmise that corporations are not indifferent to the success of political candidates in spite of the stringent enactments to keep them absolutely dormant in that respect."

"We fail to find anything unlawful or wrongful in the article published. Corporations are public interests, are creatures of the law and not per se odious."

The article asserted that Lawler "has the backing of public service corporations in the state that are not in sympathy with the masses."

WOLF PELT FRAUD CHARGED

Accused of Buying Hides in Twin Cities and Collecting Bounties.

Superior, Wis., June 19.—William Whit, famed as the champion wolf slayer of Northern Wisconsin, is under arrest at Frederic and state game wardens are said to have connected him with frauds whereby the northwestern counties of Wisconsin have been defrauded of more than $20,000 in the past five years.

Others are said to be implicated in the plan, which, it is alleged, centered around the purchase of pelts of Canadian wolves brought to the Twin Cities and their presentation to Wisconsin county clerks for bounty payments.

The pelts are said to have cost the "hunters" from $2.50 to $4.50, while the bounty is $20, half paid by the state and half by the county.

Five Children Burned to Death.

Eolia, Mo., June 19.—Five children, two boys and three girls, were burned to death when the home of Bob Lewis, near here, was destroyed by fire.

JUDGE LINDSEY.

Contempt Case at Denver Taken Under Advisement.

LINDSEY'S TRIAL IS ENDED

Contempt Case of Denver Judge Taken Under Advisement.

Denver, June 19.—The trial of Judge Ben B. Lindsey of the Denver juvenile court, on an amended charge of contempt of court in connection with a recent murder trial, was closed when Judge Perry, in the district court, took the case under advisement.

Judge Lindsey had refused to reveal the confidence of Neal Wright, a twelve-year-old boy, regarding the shooting of the boy's father, of which the boy's mother was acquitted.

WILSON AND BRYAN ALWAYS COUNSELED

Former Secretary Denies Report President Ignored Him.

Washington, June 19.—President Wilson called at the home of former Secretary Bryan to bid goodbye to Mr. and Mrs. Bryan before they depart for their Southern trip. He remained chatting for ten minutes with the former secretary and his wife.

The visit was described as entirely social in character and there were no references to the international situation.

Former Secretary Bryan made public a statement denying reports that have been circulated since his resignation, that he had been ignored by President Wilson while secretary of state.

"I am glad to make refutation," said Mr. Bryan, "and to say that the president has done me the honor to confer with me about everything done in connection with the state department."

"I may add that we have never had any material difference on any question of policy until the submarine controversy arose and our notes—my note of resignation and his note to me accepting it—have clearly and distinctly set forth the only difference that existed on this matter."

SWEDISH PUBLIC ANGRY AT GERMANS.

London, June 19.—"The anger of the public and the press is rising daily over German attacks on neutral shipping," says Reuter's Stockholm correspondent.

"Newspapers of all shades of opinion are protesting energetically against the capture of the Swedish steamer Torsten and the sinking of the Swedish steamer Verdandi, both of which carried certificates that they had nothing aboard which the Germans could consider contraband."

HOLD CAPTURED TRENCES

Sir John French Reports on Recent British Operations.

London, June 19.—The following report from Sir John French, commander-in-chief of the British forces on the continent, was given out here.

"The fighting in the northern and southern portions of our front continued throughout June 16 in co-operation with the attack of our ally against Arras."

"East of Ypres all the German first line trenches which we captured remain in our hands in spite of two counter attacks, which we repulsed with heavy loss to the enemy. We were, however, unable to retain those of the enemy's second line of trenches which we had occupied."

"East of Festubert, as a result of a further attack on the afternoon of the 16th, we made a slight advance, and judging by the number of dead Germans in the trenches entered by our artillery fire was very effective."

NEW SYSTEM OF BUILDING SHIPS

Secretary Daniels Will Give Private Builders Chance.

RESULT OF CAREFUL STUDY

Head of Navy Department Concludes That Plan of Charging a Proportionate Share of the Ordinary Running Expenses of the Yard in Figuring Cost of Construction Is Wrong.

Washington, June 19.—Under a new system of accounting at the government navy yards, to be inaugurated July 1, Secretary Daniels expects to demonstrate that battleships can be constructed by the government at a cost that will at least insure satisfactory competition in bidding for contracts by private builders.

In announcing the new system Mr. Daniels said he had been studying the problem for months and had concluded that the system of charging a proportionate share of the ordinary running expenses of the yard is figuring the cost of construction is wrong.

These expenses, he said, constituted a military necessity and continued whether ships were or were not built at the yards.

Hereafter, therefore, only expenses actually added on account of construction will be charged against the ships. While private yards use the old system, the navy view is that their business is construction and not repair work, and that to apply that system to government plants results in charging new ships with a part of the cost of repair work on other craft.

Inventories of all property at government yards have been made and will be kept up to date hereafter, to furnish a basis for an accurate "production factor" for use in figuring construction costs.

TO BAR POISONED BULLETS

Alleged Manufacture of Cartridges to Be Investigated.

Washington, June 19.—The cabinet held a two-hour session and discussed a variety of subjects, among them the Mexican situation and the charges of espionage on official mails between the United States and Europe.

One subject discussed was the reported manufacturing of cartridges advertised by a Cleveland concern to contain poisonous gases to cause much pain and to cause death within four hours.

The position of the government in such cases is that where contributory violations of The Hague convention occur within the United States it will endeavor to stop them. The department of commerce will investigate.

EFFICIENCY BUREAU SCORED

Wisconsin Senate Committee Reports on Investigation.

Madison, Wis., June 19.—The senate special committee appointed to investigate the Wisconsin efficiency bureau and its publication, Everybody's Business, made its report. Senator Otto Bossard was chairman.

After examining several witnesses it makes these findings:

"The Wisconsin efficiency bureau is in fact an organization which issues publications designed to influence public opinion and legislation on important matters, without disclosing the names of its owners, promoters, managers or contributors. Sound public policy demands the condemnation of such a procedure."

STAHL ACCUSED OF PERJURY

German Reservist Indicted by the Grand Jury.

New York, June 19.—Gustave Stahl, the German reservist, who swore in an affidavit submitted to the state department by the German embassy that he saw guns aboard the Lusitania, was indicted for perjury by a federal grand jury.

The alleged perjury was committed, it is said, not when he made the affidavit, but in testimony to the same effect before the grand jury in its inquiry against Paul Koenig.

Stahl is now in the Tombs, where he was taken in default of $10,000 bail after his arrest on leaving the grand jury room June 10.

Austrians on Offensive.

Verona, Italy, June 19.—The Austrians have now so strengthened their forces that they are taking the offensive both from Mori and Rovereto, in Trent, against the Italians, who are camping at Brentonico, which lies at the foot of Mount Altissimo; at Serravalle, situated in the Lagarina valley, and also in the Arsa valley. The result of the fighting is still in doubt.

Former G. A. R. Head Dies.

Davenport, Ia., June 19.—E. H. Buck, past department commander of the Illinois Grand Army of the Republic, died of apoplexy at the home of his daughter here. His home for years was in Rock Island and he took part in the G. A. R. encampment parade in Moline several weeks ago.

LEO M. FRANK.

Governor May Not Give a Decision Until Monday.

FIX FRANK'S FATE MONDAY

Governor Slaton of Georgia Will Announce Decision.

Atlanta, Ga., June 19.—Governor Slaton said he had not yet reached a conclusion on Leo M. Frank's application for commutation of his death sentence and he thought it likely he would not announce his decision until Monday. Frank's execution is set for Tuesday.

Bride and Groom, Latter's Son and Policeman Victims.

Jamestown, N. Y., June 19.—Fred Shaver of this city shot and killed his father, his stepmother and a policeman and was himself killed by other officers. The weapons used were rifles and Shaver's act is attributed to drink and a quarrel with his father. The latter, Hudson Shaver, sixty-seven years old, and well to do, was married June 7 to Ruth Campbell, thirty-seven.

The son went to his father's apartment, where, after a dispute, the older man fled to the hall. There he fell dead from a rifle ball. The sound of the shot attracted Officer Kendall, who ran up the stairway.

Young Shaver shot the policeman in the chest and hip and these wounds proved fatal an hour later. The murderer then barricaded himself in the apartment and the slaying of his stepmother probably occurred soon after that.

A deputy sheriff called to him to surrender, but Shaver refused. Later, when he appeared at the window, several policemen standing across the street fired in quick succession and he fell back to the floor. The officers then broke open the door and found him dead.

CHARLES BECKER IS DENIED NEW TRIAL.

Albany, N. Y., June 19.—Only Governor Whitman or the United States supreme court now can stay the sentence of "death by electrocution" upon Charles Becker, former New York police lieutenant. The court of appeals repeated its decision that Becker shall die in the electric chair during the week of July 12. The court specifically denied the application of Becker, convicted of instigating the Herman Rosenthal murder, for a reargument of his appeals.

TWO KILLED IN AIR MISHAP

Another Man Escapes Death by Alighting on Bodies.

Quincy, Mass., June 19.—In an aeroplane accident here George H. Hersey, Jr., of this city, a mechanic, was killed and William D. Ely of Providence, R. I., who was receiving instructions in flight from Harry L. Jones, the operator of the machine, suffered injuries from which he died on the way to the hospital.

Jones probably escaped serious injury by falling on the bodies of the others.

Nineteen Dead Toll of Storm.

Kansas City, June 19.—Reports from storm swept sections of the Southwest continued to reach here, bringing news of additional deaths and further property damage. The total of nineteen persons were known to be dead as a result of the terrific wind, hail and electrical storms which which centered in Missouri and Kansas.

Unidentified Tramps Are Victims of Montana Accident.

Dillon, Mont., June 19.—Three men were killed and three seriously injured, all unidentified tramps beating their way, in a freight wreck on the Oregon Short Line when twelve freight cars of a double header train went into a ditch, causing a loss of thousands of dollars worth of property.

The twelve cars were completely destroyed and thousands of pounds of coal and merchandise of every description were scattered over the right of way.
